

'New Look' for Famed Gardens

Butchart's Gardens has become a fairy-land for night visitors. Special lighting has been installed to add to the attraction of the famous tourist show-piece. A preview of the shimmering garden was given Wednesday night by owner-managers, Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross. Tonight the gardens open to the public. Nightly tours through the gardens will continue to 11.30 p.m. It is expected the illumination of the beauty spot will bring Butchart's greater fame than it now has in many parts of the world. (See story, Page 11.)

Rhee Relents Demand For Reds' Withdrawal

CROSSWORDERS FAIL AGAIN; PRIZE MONEY UP TO $225

Victoria Times' Crossword Puzzle No. 14, which will appear Friday, will be worth $225. Which is one way of saying that again no contestant had the correct solution to Puzzle No. 13, the answer to which is on Page 12. Usually it is a three- or four-letter word that stumps the majority of competitors. This time, however, it was a longer word, "derision," that caused the trouble. A total of 4,080 entries were eliminated when they wrote "decision." Another 2,269 stumbled on "injured," the right word being "insured."

Wild Glasgow Crowd Welcomes Elizabeth

GLASGOW, Scotland (UP)—Crowds surged through police lines toward Queen Elizabeth II today and more than 50 persons were injured before troops and mounted police restored order. A guardsman fainted and others had their bearskin helmets knocked askew when the great throng pressed forward to get a glimpse of the Queen during a review of a guard of honor in Glasgow's George Square.

Some of the injured were taken to hospital while others were treated on the scene. There was a moment of alarm as the crowd threatened to break clear through the cordon and engulf the Queen. But reinforcements hastily moved into position held back the spectators. A roaring ovation greeted the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh when they appeared later on the balcony of the Glasgow city hall.

They set out from Edinburgh on a tour of Scottish communities following Wednesday's national Thanksgiving service and were to return there later in the day. They will stay in Edinburgh until Monday.

The Queen and her husband, who danced into the early hours of the morning at ball given by the Royal Company of Archers, were scheduled to visit Paisley and Rutherglen as well as Glasgow.

At each point, they were certain to receive the same tumultuous welcome which has marked the Scottish visit so far. Traffic jams and popular enthusiasm in Edinburgh almost equalled the peak in London during Coronation week early this month. The Scots proudly referred to Wednesday's ceremonies as the "Little Coronation."

Eight hundred guests attended the ball Wednesday night in the Edinburgh assembly rooms. Some 300 of them were members of the archers' company, the Queen's official bodyguard during her state visit to Scotland.

London's Sex Murderer Sentenced to Gallows

Jury Rejects Defense Claim Christie Insane

LONDON (UP)—John R. Christie, the "Strangler of Notting Hill," was sentenced today to be hanged for the murder of his wife, one of seven women victims.

The confessed sex slayer, pale and trembling, put his hands to his face as if on the verge of collapse as wardens led him away to await the gallows.

A jury of nine men and three women rejected the defense plea that the 55-year-old clerk was insane. They pronounced him guilty of strangling his wife last Dec. 14 at the Notting Hill house where, driven by weird sex urgings, he gassed and strangled at least six other women.

Judge Sir Donald Finmore quickly imposed the sentence—death by hanging.

The packed courtroom—Old Bailey's No. 1 chamber—was hushed as the jury returned with its verdict after deliberating one hour and 22 minutes.

A clerk asked whether the jury had agreed.

"Yes," the foreman replied, adding slowly and loudly: "He is guilty . . . that is the verdict of all of us."

A clerk moved behind the bench and placed on the judge's bewigged head the traditional black cap worn when death sentences are pronounced.

Christie stood gripping the rail of the prisoner's dock with his bony white hands.

"You stand convicted of murder," the clerk told him. "Have you anything to say?"

The defendant paled. He shook his bald head and did not speak.

'Lord Have Mercy on Your Soul'

Finmore then passed sentence: "You have been found guilty of murder by the jury and for that crime there is only one sentence known to our law, and that is that you be taken from this place to a lawful prison and thence to a place of execution and there suffer death by hanging, and that your body be buried in the precincts of the prison in which you shall have been last confined before your execution."

"May the Lord have mercy on your soul,"

"Amen," a clergyman intoned. A tall constable tapped the little man on the shoulder. He turned and groped toward the steep steps leading from the dock to the cells underneath the court.

Just before he disappeared from view he put his hands to his face as if to weep.

An attorney said in behalf of Christie that the question of an appeal will be considered.

Crowds of Londoners had packed sidewalks outside the historic grey court since word spread across London that the case had gone to the jury at 4.04 p.m. (8.04 a.m. PDT). The jurors returned with their verdict at 5.25 p.m. (9.25 p.m. PDT).

They were under instructions from the presiding judge to base their verdict solely on Christie's admitted killing of his wife last December 14. The other murders he confessed were introduced to bolster the defense.

But the judge warned that the defense plea of insanity "must be looked at carefully and considered carefully" because "it is not a difficult thing for a person to say when he has no other defense, 'I was mad.'"

"Nor is it enough to say a man is abnormal or odd," the judge added. "Neither is it enough to say a man had had sexual aberrations."

Sadism "by itself is not necessarily insanity," Finmore said.

Alternative but to return a verdict of guilty.

Heard said two psychiatrists had pronounced the mild-mannered clerk sane while only one doctor testified for the defense.

"There was a third witness whose evidence was against the defense in this matter, and that was Christie himself," the prosecutor stated. He said the defendant during his "terrible ordeal" in the witness box had given "his evidence in a thoroughly intelligible way."

"Evidence of sex perversion" was "not necessarily insanity," Heard said.

Christie's crimes were first discovered by a new tenant in his apartment, who found the bodies of three young women in a kitchen cupboard whose door had been crudely papered over.

Missing Man Believed on Russian Isle

NOME, Alaska (AP)—Cecil Stoner, 45-year-old laborer who is missing from Little Diomed Island and is believed to have gone to Russian territory three miles away, had talked of wanting to get to Siberia, The Nome Nugget reported Wednesday.

The newspaper said it had learned that Stoner, who has been described in Seattle police records as a leftist and who is on parole from Washington State penitentiary, had a rubber lifeboat in which to make the trip to Russian-owned Big Diomed.

Stoner went to Little Diomed with an excursion party to take pictures of the Arctic ice and walrus. He dropped from sight and speculation immediately rose that he had gone to the Russian territory. The Diomedes are about 150 miles northwest of Nome.

SOCREDS MAY OUST CRITIC OF CABINET

Clash Sequel to B.C. Suspensions

By GORDON FORBES

A move is under way to expell W. A. Scott, one of the chief objectors to the government's suspension of two senior civil servants, from the Social Credit Party, a prominent Victoria Socred said today.

A motion of censure was proposed at Wednesday night's special closed meeting of the Oak Bay Social Credit Association, but it was postponed until a later meeting.

The local association can only recommend expulsion of a member. The actual expulsion is done by the B.C. Social Credit League, the Socreds explained.

The Social Crediters feel Mr. Scott was the ringleader in protesting the suspensions, and was responsible for causing embarrassment to the government and the local association.

DEVELOPMENTS

Here are the latest developments in the controversy which started when Premier Bennett suspended for one month Don Smith, purchasing commission buying agent, and Bert Crowe, mechanical superintendent for the B.C. Forest Service, for alleged mishandling of tenders:

1. Oak Bay Social Credit Association rebuked its president, George Alexander, and Mr. Scott and Lou Holker for protesting the suspensions.

2. Mr. Alexander said today he won't run for presidency at annual meeting early in July.

3. Mr. Scott charges that meeting wouldn't allow proper explanation by himself, Alexander and Holker.

4. Mr. Scott says he was threatened by angry Oak Bay Socreds who tried to confiscate his tape-recording machine which recorded meeting.

5. Mr. Holker charges the meeting was "beautifully organized" to shout down Mr. Scott.

6. Mr. Holker may split party.

7. Mr. Crowe submits official grievance to B.C. Government Employees' Association.

POLICY APPROVED

After about two hours of discussion at the St. Mary's Hall meeting, the 160 Socreds passed a motion "approving the policy of the government that no tenders be altered after having been received by any government department."

No motion of censure was passed against the three officials.

New Red Atrocity Reports in Berlin

Three Workers Said Executed By Firing Squads at Dresden; Govt. Calls Rally

BERLIN (UP)—New Communist atrocity reports reached Berlin today as the riot-shaken regime of Red Premier Otto Grotewohl labored to retain its control over uneasy East Germany.

The report said Russian firing squads executed three more workers at Dresden, where Communist German police had arrested at least 400 men.

In addition to the Dresden roundups, it was learned that special Red squads had seized 115 workers at Freital and 78 in Thrandorf, both in Saxony.

News of the new executions lifted the known death toll to seven, but unofficially it was estimated more than 30 persons had died for resisting Soviet oppression.

A big "purge" of workers was undertaken at huge Leuna Chemical Plant at Merseburg, where 25,000 employees rioted last week and took over the plant until Russian tanks rushed in to quell the demonstration.

Approval for the gathering was granted by Soviet-Maj. Gen. P. T. Dibrova, commander of the Red army divisions which crushed the violent June 17 rebellion following a similar Communist-permitted demonstration.

B.C. VICTIMS OF CAR CRASH IDENTIFIED

RCMP in Victoria today released the names of four New Westminster residents killed in a two-car collision near Brandon, Man., Wednesday night.

Dead are: Alfred Smith, 36, New Westminster, his wife and their two children.

Also killed was the unidentified driver of the other car.

Mrs. Smith's parents are listed as Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cooper (see earlier story page 5).

ANOTHER RALLY

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's shaky Communist government today scheduled another workers' rally in East Berlin, apparently hopeful that careful organization and Soviet steel would prevent this one from developing into another open rebellion.

Party bosses called on workers of the city's three big eastern boroughs—Mitte, Friedrichshagen and Prenzlauer—to show their support at a mass demonstration Friday for the regime's announced plans to make things better for the working class.

Press Conference Planned By Eden

BOSTON (UP)—British foreign secretary Anthony Eden announced today he will hold a press conference Monday.

The announcement, made through the British consulate here, renewed speculation that the 56-year-old diplomat may be sufficiently recovered from gall bladder surgery to attend the forthcoming Big Three conference in Bermuda.

The meeting with newsmen and photographers was scheduled for 12 noon at New England Baptist Hospital.

It will be the ailing Eden's first public appearance since entering the hospital June 5.

Golf Clubhouse Razed

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (UP)—An $8,000 fire destroyed the Waterton Lakes Golf Club building Wednesday.

Cause of the fire was not known.

Two Women Killed

MILLBROOK, Ont. (UP)—Two women were killed and three others injured when a car went out of control and smashed into a tree on this village's main street Wednesday night.

Killed in the accident were Mrs. Morley Cain, 44, of Cobourg, and Mrs. Elizabeth Davidson, 65, of Millbridge.

Two Choices

Rhee told a crowd of 300,000 persons massed in Capitol Square on the third anniversary of the Korean war that he had given the United Nations two blueprints for an armistice, and they could take their choice.

Originally, he said, he insisted on withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, including some 1,000,000 Chinese, as once proposed by the Communists and rejected by the United Nations.

Rhee said he still opposed the presence of the Chinese on Korean soil after the armistice is settled, but believed this issue could be settled by negotiation.

Meanwhile on the fighting front tonight the Chinese Communists threw 9,000 men into bloody attacks on the third anniversary of the Korean war.

The attacks, breaking a day-long lull, hit on the western front along the road to Seoul, and on the east-central front.

Canadian Wins British Golf Title

Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., today became the first Canadian and the youngest player ever to win the British women's amateur golf championship. The 19-year-old Canadian titlist defeated Irish champion Philomena Garvey, 7 and 6, in the 36-hole final at the Royal Porthcawl course in Wales. Miss Stewart was six up at the end of 18 holes. (For details see story on Page 8.)

Don't see why th' Mayor thinks pedestrians are mean 'r motorists. He ought t' know a pedestrian is a feller who's just parked his car.

Them Oak Bay Socreds may decide that even better than a closed meetin' is a closed mouth.

It's gittin' so now that if an official in one o' these political clubs offers his resignation, durned if somebody don't up an' accept it.

Laniel Seen France's Newest Prime Minister

Little Known Right-of-Centre Deputy May End Cabinet Crisis

By PHIL NEWSOM, United Press Foreign News Editor

It may be that the French finally are about ready to get down to business.

Today (Thursday) is the beginning of the sixth week in which France has been without a government. It has been the longest cabinet crisis in the history of the Fourth Republic, and has endured even as France skidded ever closer to bankruptcy.

Twice it has forced postponement of the Big Three Bermuda conference which mark a turning point in the hot and cold wars between east and west.

The 10th man selected by President Vincent Auriol since May 21 to try to form a new government may be the successful one.

He is a little known right-of-centre independent party deputy named Joseph Laniel.

First reaction to Laniel among the 10 political parties making up the French assembly has been relatively good.

However, even should the 63-year-old Laniel be successful, the nature of the French government structure and the temper of the deputies is likely to make his a do-nothing government.

Laniel is a millionaire Normandy textile manufacturer who was active in the French resistance movement during the last war and also served with distinction in the First World War.

The German Gestapo sought him, his wife and their two children during the Second World War. At the end of the war he rode in triumph down the

Sinclair Names Four to Pacific Fisheries Body

OTTAWA (BUP)—Fisheries Minister James Sinclair today announced the names of the four Canadians who will represent Canada on the International North Pacific Fisheries Commission.

They are Deputy Minister of Fisheries Stewart Bates; J. M. Buchanan, president of British Columbia Packers Ltd., Vancouver; Robert T. Hager, vice-president of the Canadian Fishing Co. Ltd., Vancouver; and James Cameron, secretary of the Pender Harbor Local of the Fishermen's Union, Pender Harbor, B.C.

Canada, the United States and Japan are signatory countries to the treaty under which the commission has been established. The treaty, known as the International Convention for the High Seas Fisheries of the North Pacific Ocean, is designed to provide maximum sustained yield of the fishery resources in the non-territorial waters of the North Pacific.

Canada ratified the treaty at the last session of parliament. It had been previously ratified by the other two nations.

The four Canadian commissioners will serve for a period of two years dating from July 1, 1953.

Aussies Score 180 Runs for 1 Wicket

LONDON (AP)—Australia had scored 180 runs for the fall of one wicket when the tea interval was reached today in the second cricket test-match with England for the mythical Ashes.

At lunch time the Australians had scored 88 runs for one wicket.

The first test ended in a draw after rain almost completely washed out the last two days of play.

Noted Polish Captain Will Stay in Britain

Batory Skipper Walked Off Ship at Newcastle

LONDON (Reuters)—The master of the Polish liner Batory, Capt. Jan Cwiklinski, has been granted permission to remain in Britain, a Home Office spokesman said today.

Cwiklinski walked off the liner, on which Communist Gerhard Eisler once fled the United States, while she was in a dockyard at Newcastle-on-Tyne, Northern England.

Friends smuggled him to London with the ship's doctor, Wacław Tacklaewski, who was previously granted political asylum.

Cwiklinski was detained as a precaution in Brixton prison while his case was being decided. He has already left the prison but his whereabouts have not been disclosed.

Cwiklinski, as commodore of the Polish merchant navy, was the country's senior merchant officer.

His is the third notable defection from Poland this year—two MIG pilots of the Polish air force landed previously with their jet aircraft on the Danish island of Bornholm.

George Spirow, 421 Vancouver, involved in a June 18 two-car collision in which $300 damage was done, was fined $35 in city police court today for careless driving. He pleaded guilty. Spirow was in collision at Government and Toronto Streets.

FIRE SWEEPS HISTORIC HOME

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—The screeches of parakeets and parrots rose above the crackling of flames today when fire swept the $10,000 museum garage of Dundurn Castle, historic home of Sir Allan MacNab, former Prime Minister of Upper Canada.

Flames shot more than 100 feet in the air, threatening bird cages in the garage and workshop of the ancient castle, now a public museum.

Firemen fought the blaze for two hours while rare tropical birds raged as water sprayed their cages 20 feet from the flames.

Deputy Fire Chief Jerry O'Connor said the fire apparently started in a scrap of lumber piled outside of the building.

Press Must Defend Community, Peron Warns Students

BUENOS AIRES (UP)—President Juan D. Peron declared Wednesday that it is the duty of every Argentine, "by any means he may choose" to see to it that the press "defends the interests of the community."

Peron told students at the Press Union's new journalism school that the press is doing its duty when it "defends and educates the peoples and defends the interests of the community."

"When the press defends only a certain class, when it is in the service of interests contrary to the community, it is not doing its duty," he added.

"It is the duty of every Argentine to put an end to this state of affairs by any means he may choose."

McCarthy Influence Based on Fear Of Communism, Says Mrs. Roosevelt

HONG KONG (UP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said here today Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R., Wis.) will "cease to be a headline when the people realize their safety lies in knowledge and not in fear."

Mrs. Roosevelt spoke with reporters today on her arrival in Hong Kong following a month-long visit to Japan. She said McCarthy's actions "loom more important in other countries than in the United States" because in foreign nations people fail to realize he "represents only a small section of American opinion."

She said McCarthy remains powerful because "people are afraid of something they do not know" and believe that "anything different must be Communism."

"This period will pass," she said, because "I do believe the people of the United States have common sense."

Asked to comment on the present "book-burning" issue, Mrs. Roosevelt declared: "It doesn't make much difference—burning or banning. If the people can't read freely how can they know what goes on in the world and it is essential to know."

Air Raid Sirens Inadequate At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Air raid sirens did not provide adequate warning here in last Saturday's exercise. Air Vice-Marshal F. V. Heakes, civil defense co-ordinator, reported Wednesday.

After studying preliminary reports on the west coast's biggest alert, the co-ordinator said many reports of inadequate warning came from industrial plants where the wall of the sirens was drowned in the routine roar of machinery.

Solution to the problem is being studied.

Children Grow on Skylark Bread

Skylark Supplies Extra Milk Protein Needed By Growing Children

Yes Mothers, children grow on Skylark Bread, because Skylark has 56% more milk protein than average white bread. Children need twice as much protein as adults, to build healthy muscles and fight disease. Skylark helps supply this important milk protein, so start using Skylark Bread today. It costs no more than ordinary bread.

Mary is the picture of health and energy. Her mother knows that growing children need extra protein, so Mary gets plenty of protein-rich, energy food... food like bread—particularly Skylark Bread with 56% more milk protein than average bread.

Everyone likes Jack. His sturdy muscles and energy seem to pull him in front of the crowd. Jack is a hearty eater, and Skylark Bread is a favorite. Skylark's extra milk protein helps Jack build his strong body and sturdy muscles.

Sally likes candy and sweets. But she eats the right foods too, since Mother keeps Skylark Bread on hand. Children actually eat more Skylark Bread, because it's made with extra skim milk solids for the richer flavor milk gives to baking.

The Two Voices

IN ONE OF HIS WISEST speeches Mr. Pearson recently told a gathering at Harvard University that there were two voices and two impulses in Asia—authentic nationalism and Russian communism. It would be tragic, he said, if the West could not "agree on the distinction between these two voices."

There is the nubbin of the Asiatic problem which so often has threatened to divide the western allies. Most of the trouble arises out of the failure to understand the difference between the native revolution within the Asiatic nations and Russia's attempt to capture that revolution. The two forces are entirely different and, as Mr. Pearson says, must be raised differently. We shall not do so by turning all of Asia against us.

The western world has no right to tell the Asiatics or any other peoples that they must not establish communist systems within their own borders. It would be not only wrong but futile to dictate their internal systems. In the end, whatever we may say, they will establish the sort of system they desire. We may not like it but we cannot control it.

The United Nations are concerned with something else entirely—aggression by any nation wherever it occurs and under any system. They did not enter Korea to extinguish communism but to halt military invasion. They are not concerned with China's internal policies but solely with China's attacks on its neighbors.

This distinction is not easy to make because communism, invented in the nineteenth century, has been largely captured and completely distorted in the twenties by an aggressive Russia under a new line of czars. The convinced communist everywhere, as distinct from the hungry man uninterested in ideology, has become the stooge of a Russian government which Karl Marx would never recognize.

That government is determined to extinguish the independence of every other government within reach of its power—not for the principles of communism but for the expansion of the imperialist Russian state. Communism under Russian control is only the current disguise of czarism.

The West plays into the hands of the great conspiracy when it seems to tell the Asiatics or other peoples that they must accept western ideas and systems or be outlawed. Having nowhere else to go, they are driven straight into Russia's arms. Their internal revolutions (which no man can prevent) become a part of Russia's worldwide counter-revolution against freedom.

The best friends of Russia today are men like Senator McCarthy, who imagine that the West can extinguish the native revolutions, that they must be extinguished because they do not suit the convenience of the United States. Such men thrive on the current confusion and increase it.

Mr. Pearson courageously confronts a terrifying force of prejudice, hysteria and local American politics when he warns the American people against these witch doctors. He is as determined as anyone—all his acts from the beginning of the Korean war onward prove it—to repel aggression whether it calls itself communism or something else.

All he asks is that aggression be distinguished from the deep, historic and irrepressible tides of change which convulse an ancient continent now struggling to reap the social benefits of this century. If this distinction is not understood, if western policy seems to be aimed against Asiatics and not against aggression, then it will surely fail.

Mr. Coldwell and the Rebound

IN ADVOCATING A NATIONAL health program for Canada Mr. M. J. Coldwell, the CCF leader, admits that it would cost $600 millions a year. But he compares this sum with the estimated total of $675 millions Canadians now pay for medical services each year, and announces that a government plan would save the nation $75 millions. Presumably the difference would be accounted for by medical panels, elimination of duplication and other streamlining devices.

Whether or not the $75 millions could be saved by such methods remains open to question. But in either case Mr. Coldwell appears to be overlooking a salient factor in state programs—a factor that was made manifest in Britain's socialized health program and in British Columbia's field of hospital insurance.

That is the fact that as soon as some form of level payment—either through premiums or taxes—is inaugurated, the use of the services increases enormously. Thus in Britain doctor's waiting rooms were jammed by patients seeking attention they would otherwise have got along without. In this province, hospital accommodation was soon taxed to the utmost by those who otherwise would have received care at home.

We Can't Blame the Atom

When it comes to the weather, Mark Twain's still almost right. The dry iceman does something about it, and atomic explosions are a minor influence, but in each case the effectiveness of these agencies is local only in application.

At least the chief of the United States Weather Bureau, Francis W. Reichelderfer asserts that the big bangs in different parts of the world are not responsible for unsettled climatic conditions in parts distant from them. According to his statement "mountains of observational data" accumulated by the weather bureau "seem to provide no basis at all for supporting the suggestions that atomic explosions in Nevada are responsible" for this spring's violent tornado season.

Strengthening the argument, science offers the explanation that man, creating an atomic explosion, is behaving, not even as vigorously as a little boy when the potency of such blasts is compared with the forces of nature. It would take, according to the experts, 1,000 atomic explosions a minute to match the energy released by a single moderate-sized hurricane. A mere rainstorm of medium intensity releases energy at a rate of three atomic bombs a second.

So Victoria can't blame the mild winter it's having this summer on the experimenting physicists. Some other scapegoat will have to be found. It can't be the government—either one. On the basis of pre-June 9 performances, we would have had a hot, dry season, and the federal winds are just beginning to rise.

The school board and staff are now housed there because they have no more suitable place to go. Members of the board and staff appreciate the building's limitations for their purposes. They would welcome more appropriate premises if they could build them.

The stumbling block, of course, is a matter of price. The sum of $36,000 has been mentioned. Perhaps this might be considered in the Capital City Grant, about which we heard so much at election time. There is no question but that Craigdarroch should be preserved and become as interesting an attraction in this area as Casa Loma is in Toronto.

Members of the businessmen's group are convinced of the building's value in one of the roles they suggest. They will, according to a decision of the directors, establish a committee to give the matter full-scale study.

Actually the acquisition of the former Dunsuir home is not a difficult problem. It can be solved with one commodity—money.

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Dim View of Our Cities

AS one who is never tired of extolling Canada I am bound, in ordinary honesty, to confess that Canadian cities are a mess besides the cities of Europe. By that standard even Victoria (I speak in confidence among the family circle) is a bit of a mess.

Bruce

Now, it is no use saying that we have been too busy in this country and are still too young to build fine cities. That may well be true but it does not explain our egregious civic blunders.

The plain fact is that in most places we have gone about this business all wrong with much less imagination and intelligence than the Europeans. If all Canadians could travel for a few months about Europe they would return and tear down most of their cities and start all over again.

I am not thinking only of London, Paris, Rome, Geneva or the pulverized glories of Berlin. We cannot expect to duplicate such structures short of several centuries. I am thinking of the ordinary small European town no larger, say, than Victoria, Calgary or Saskatoon. I am thinking of a hundred towns whose names I forget, whose look is only a vague blur in my memory. All of them had a kind of civic heart almost unknown in this country.

The heart usually takes the form of a magnificent park, square or boulevard in the very centre of the town. The value of this public land must be very high. The taxpayers could sell it for building purposes, probably pay off the municipal debt and reduce the tax rates.

But everywhere, even among the Germans who are regarded as a highly practical and cold-blooded people, this preserve of trees and flowers is jealously guarded. Any politician who attempted to sacrifice it, even to cut down a tree or extinguish a bed of geraniums, would doubtless be lynched, which is a sound idea.

In a desperately poor fishing village on the coast of Spain, where a fisherman would be lucky to earn a dollar a day, you will find a seaside promenade equalled in few of Canada's richest cities. In Barcelona, for all its reeking slums, the main street makes Fifth Avenue look like a cow trail. Utrecht in Holland is perhaps a third the size of Vancouver but where Vancouver has planted a smoking industrial area between the business and residential sections Utrecht has built a magnificent garden and its commercial canals look like a child's picture book.

As Our Readers See It

END OF THAT

It would seem that W. A. Scott and his co-workers for the Social Credit Party are simply making a mountain out of a molehill. If as W. A. Scott says he believes in principles, there appears to be a principle involved—not the mere suspension of two individuals.

It makes no difference whether there was $500 or $5,000 involved in saving. It was up to the two individuals to take the matter up with their supervisors. As it was pointed out by the minister and Mr. Bennett they are just doing their duty. In a court, a case is dismissed if the complainant does not wish to proceed—and that is the end of that.

W. C. MARSHALL

MELANCHOLY DANE

I have today instructed the Times carrier to discontinue delivering this rag. The only reason I have not done it before is my liking for the young man who delivers it here over a very long rural route.

You have a privilege in this country which you should guard and respect, it being the "freedom of the press." However when you abuse this privilege with biased and bigoted editorials, and sometimes in your interpretation of the news, I for one must protest by refusing to have your paper in the house.

If you fired Messrs. Keate and Hutchison and replaced them with men who have open minds, and have a sincere respect for the public and those who represent Her Majesty, your paper might survive instead of dying a sure but slow death like the Liberal Party you so strongly uphold. I doubt if you are big enough.

A. D. DANE

Fulford Harbour, B.C.

NO TORN CARD

Besides running as Independent in a previous provincial election, I have been the centre of many controversial issues. My record shows that never once have I complained about how the press handled my utterances.

THE pity is that we had the chance to do so much better and muffed it.

All European cities began as crowded villages around some central fort. In those days, when there was no form of transportation for ordinary people, except their own legs, land was scarce and precious.

In Canada we had land to burn. If we had used an ounce of sense we would have preserved spacious tracts in the middle of every town instead of building them solid and then, as an afterthought, appending a park to the outskirts.

Observing the green belt of London, the miles of verdure, the quiet wilderness surrounded by the world's largest city, a Canadian is envious and ashamed. The builders of London, long ago, knew what they were doing, foresaw the future and planned accordingly, while in America we assumed that progress was nothing more than an increasing pile of bricks and mortar.

In Canada we have a good many such piles. By European standards we do not possess a single city and hardly a single town to be proud of. Perhaps we may make an exception of Ottawa, which has the advantage of federal government money and its incomparable hill of Parliament, (lovelier than Westminster), and Quebec, which is essentially European in design and was well established before modern man could spoil it.

OUR failure as city builders in America is no accident, though it is a disaster. We have failed because, so far, we have never really wished to do better. Our minds have been on something else, on the business of making a living and we have never stopped to think what kind of a living we wanted.

That is why we are living in cities and towns whose ugliness, congestion and botched design we never suspect until we have seen the work of the older people whom we consider old-fashioned. In fact it will take years, maybe centuries, at our present rate to catch up to them.

AND it will be a work of appalling cost, if we ever do it, because we started wrong and will have to rip apart buildings and streets that never should have been built in the first place.

In this empty land, this half continent of space, we have yet to let the sunshine, the air and the flowers into the stone heart of our cities.

We can teach the Europeans many things. Our homes, on average, are far better than theirs. But in the art of building a city, the common possession of all citizens, we are children beside them and we don't show much sign of growing up.

Therefore I don't want to spoil this reputation.

But as I admit I can be wrong sometimes, I respectfully ask you to admit you were wrong in Tuesday's Times editorial, "Policies and Punishments."

You first correctly listed me as being a mooted Secord candidate in the forthcoming federal election; then incorrectly stated I missed the point at issue completely and suggested party members should tear up their cards.

Nothing is further from the truth. I have neither missed the point, nor suggested party members tear up their cards. Your own reporter's statements confirm this. Therefore I respectfully ask for a correction.

W. A. SCOTT

(Editor's Note: Since Mr. Scott's name was not mentioned in the editorial, he has perhaps taken unto himself more than was intended. However, the Times is glad to publish his clarification of the matter.)

CAN'T SEE VISIONARIES

In the matter of the tractor contract, Messrs. Bennett and Gunderson were completely right and the departmental officials completely wrong, in the light of the published evidence.

It would be an ill day for the taxpayers of the province if the slightest relaxation of the rules governing public tenders were permitted. It would throw the door open to corruption and graft.

It appears that the officials now advance the claim that the tractor purchased was the better for the intended purpose, regardless of the difference in price. If this is so, the officials are doubly culpable, as they should have bought it in the first place, for suitability should be the first consideration and the price the second, within reasonable limits.

It is to be hoped that responsible ministers will not allow themselves to be perturbed or influenced by ignorant and inexperienced visionaries.

Reality

And Mind Your Storm and Strife

By ROBERT L. MOORE In The New York Herald Tribune

IT WAS strange news, that story quoted in the London County Council to the effect that the younger generation of Cockneys no longer are dropping their h's, and that "for good of ill, school teachers are having a leveling effect on pronunciation."

This I take with a generous grain of salt. In my book, Cockney is here to stay.

For one thing, the people of Australia and New Zealand are insuring its longevity by spreading it many thousands of miles beyond the sound of Bow Bells. But Cockney isn't just an accent, anyway. It's more than hadding haitches where they don't belong and dropping them where they do. It's a language unto itself far more than is Scottish or Irish (not Gaelic, of course), or Yorkshire or Welsh.

FROG AN' TOAD

I was sipping a mild and bitters one afternoon in The Lamb and Lark, in Printing House Lane, near The Times of London, when a lad poked his head into the door and called to the man behind the bar: "Ave you seen Jim about, Alf?"

The ruddy-faced publican flipped his thumb over his shoulder and replied: "Frog an' toad, Sammy. Frog an' toad."

"Ta," said the other, and left.

I lowered my glass, raised my eyebrows and asked Alf: "What was that all about?"

"E was ahskin' for Jim, and I told 'im 'e went down the road," and Alf gestured again with his thumb.

"Yes," I said, "but 'Frog and toad'?"

"Oh!" Alf grinned. "That's Cockney rhyme language. 'Frog and toad' means 'down the road.'"

That was my introduction to the colorful jargon which, though Shakespeare used it, is largely unknown today. Cockney rhyming slang is simply the substitution of meaningless words which rhyme with the words that are really intended: "Frog and toad" for "road," "apples and pears" for "stairs," "oh so frisky" for "whisky."

PASSED DOWN

It is not, hit-or-miss, invented on the spot. There is a substantial glossary that has been passed down through generations. Sometimes it is called "thieves' language"—though this is unfair today—and quite probably it did originate in the underworld long ago as a means of communication that others wouldn't understand. It may even have been imported from the continent, for Francois Villon is said to have used thieves' rhyming language in some of his poetry.

The Cockneys, with their sharp wit and mannerisms, have been a very special part of the English scene for centuries. Sentimentalists will insist they had their origin in Norman times in the men from Cockaigne, one of the feudal states under William the Conqueror.

SHORT CUTS

After my first encounter with rhyme language I grew quite adept at it—understanding it at least. Before long I could even recognize the various short-cuts the Cockneys use—short-cuts familiar to other Cockneys but baffling to the outsider. Frequently the Cockney uses only the first word of the rhyming phrase: since other Cockneys know the full phrase, there's no need to say "Frog and toad" when just "frog" will do.

One Cockney friend of mine, when his daughter's bedtime came, would say "Uncle Ned, duck. Up the apples with you."

"Uncle Ned," naturally, meant "bed." And "duck" is a common Cockney term of endearment. "Apples was short for apples and pears," or "stairs." Freely translated, what he was saying was simply, "Bedtime, honey; up the stairs with you."

Rhee Forces Our Hand

By WALTER LIPPMANN from Washington

THE controlling factor, to which we must adjust ourselves, is that since Dr. Rhee has deprived Gen. Clark of his command authority over the South Korean troops, the United Nations does not now have authority to speak for the Rhee government in war or peace. The rupture is complete. Almost certainly it is irreparable. For Dr. Rhee carried out his decisions behind a screen of deliberate deception. In order to prevent the UN commander from taking measures to forestall the violation of his authority and the release of the prisoners, Dr. Rhee gave his personal assurance to Gen. Clark and to Mr. Briggs, the U.S. ambassador, that he would not do what he was in fact secretly getting ready to do.

The Rhee government admits this. The acting prime minister wrote to Gen. Clark that they had deliberately broken their promise to consult him before taking any unilateral action. The reason given for this deception was, however, as false and as full of guile as was the original promise.

"Even to be consulted, however slightly," wrote the acting prime minister, "about our own contemplated action would have been unbearably embarrassing to you."

The real reason, of course, for deceiving Gen. Clark was not to save him embarrassment but to keep him from taking preventive action.

What, in view of all this, are to be our relations with the Rhee government? The situation is unprecedented, certainly in our experience. For while we have no authority that Dr. Rhee recognizes, we are in a thousand different ways entangled with his government, his army, and his people.

We cannot sign an armistice which binds him. And in the unlikely event that he himself should agree to the armistice, his promise cannot be relied upon. On the other hand, if we sign an armistice without him, we cannot permit him to continue the war. For if his front were broken, as almost certainly it would be, the position of the UN troops in South Korea would be gravely threatened.

The crux of the matter is that Dr. Rhee is demanding a free hand for himself, whereas we are much too deeply engaged in Korea to be able to give him a free hand.

We cannot let him fight his own separate war. Much less can we supply him with the munitions, to fight a separate war. We cannot let him compel us and our allies to fight his war for him and under him.

We cannot leave Korea now without abandoning it first to anarchy and then to absorption into the Communist orbit. We cannot stay in Korea with the Communists whom we dare not trust in front of us, and with the Rhee government, which cannot be trusted, behind us.

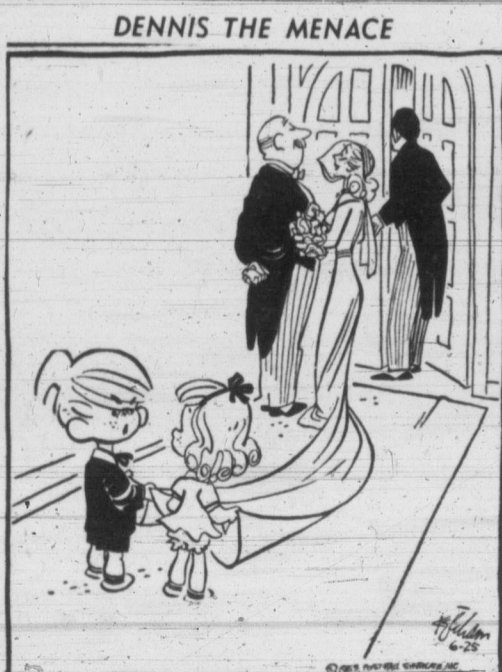

Korea is too small a place for two contradictory military commands, for two contradictory policies. The one or the other—his or ours—is going to have to prevail.

Since we cannot yield to Dr. Rhee, we are compelled to assert our own authority over his government and over South Korea. If we do not assert our authority, we shall expose our troops to serious trouble, and we shall jeopardize all the great interests which we and the other United Nations have paid such a heavy price to maintain.

Fishing Still Good in Inlet

Fishing continued to be extremely good Wednesday in the Victoria-Saanich Inlet derby and 15 fish were placed on its first day. Five of the qualifying fish won bronze buttons.

A. M. Neilson reeled in the largest catch of the day, a 26½ pounder.

Gordon Smith checked in a 22½ pounder and Mrs. Barbara Liddle placed third with 22½ pound fish. Pete Stewart too, fourth with a 21 pounder and Don Gunn, who has already qualified for the final fish-off, turned in a 20.02-pound fish with the hope of winning a weekly prize.

R. A. George topped the third weekly ladder with a 34-pound fish, according to official lists released today.

Three anglers, Mrs. Paul Jones, George Whitehead and H. Guy tied for last spot and all qualified. Lowest weight was 9½ pounds, a new record.

Weekly prize winners were George, Bob Marshall, with 30 pounds; L. C. Caulcher, 27½ pounds; H. Hett, 26 pounds, and G. H. West with a 25 pounder.

Mrs. Kathie Williams won the hidden weight prize with a 7½ pounder, which was under qualifying weight.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

There's a story somewhere about a tavern in Dublin in the 19th century that bore above the door the following legend: "Quiet when stroked; fierce when provoked."

Fittingly, here perhaps, the name of the pub was the "Irish Arms."

It's doubtful if any of the Victoria Shamrocks ever heard of the inn or even the legend, but nevertheless, they certainly abide by the motto, and could well adopt it as their coat of arms.

To this Shamrock Native Sons of the Intercity Lacrosse League will bear witness. Saturday night at Nanaimo, it will be recalled the Sons defeated the Shamrocks, 13-9. They not only defeated the Irish but they beat them into submission, the story goes, and maimed Rocks' Bob Monaghan and Harry Irwin in the process.

Naturally, the Irish were slightly provoked, and Wednesday night at Memorial Arena here were quiet enough until again reminded of this provocation when the Sons appeared in their reflected glory.

Then the Irish got their dander up. The result was a sparkling 16-7 triumph over the Sons, which not only preserved their unbeaten record of nine unblemished performances at home, but also gave them a six-point bulge on the Intercity pack.

The contest was barely under way when Reg Dorman of the Sons and Larry Booth of the Irish were detected eyeing each other viciously and rightfully sent to do penance. And this pattern the game was to follow.

Fulla Still Fat, That's All

Rough, rugged and spitefully played, the affair was a goallast battle for five minutes. Then Duff McCaghey slipped through a cordon of wood and mesh and beat Nanaimo's fat Freddie Fulla, who isn't as fat as he once was, was regarded. By the end of the first period, the Rocks were on top of their upland playmates, 3-1. The Sons stayed close for a time after that until Spud Morelli took umbrage with a Shamrock and was penalized for his indiscretion.

Just one minute and 25 seconds later, Fulla had fished four balls out of the net from such marksmen as Art Green, Larry Booth, Whitley Severson and Arnold Ferguson, and the contest, as a game of skill between two sides, was virtually history.

But they played out the act anyway, the billing the Sons received from their Saturday triumph, proving only to be a half truth.

The Sons maintained their slugging percentage, but fell far short in lacrosse production.

Thankfully, referees Bill Wilkes and Fritz Cavallin were in no mood for jousting, and took the necessary punitive action.

Meanwhile, the Rocks utilized the remaining time to brush upon their passing game, scoring six goals in the process.

Whitley Severson and Lisle Scott put on a preview in the fourth period for tonight's wrestling fans at the arena in the extra curricular part of the agenda.

Two Cuties in a Cute Manoeuvre

The best goal of the night fittingly was produced by two of the best players on the floor, Sarge Sammartino and Arnold Ferguson of the Irish. Sammartino sold the dummy to the Nanaimo defense, while giving Ferguson the ball. Ferguson sold Fulla the same dummy and all Sammartino had to do, though he shot, was to have dropped the ball and it would have rolled in the net.

It must have been even more humiliating to the Sons when Tom Druce, the Irish bone crusher, rendered John Lumley to the position of a bravo in name only. With Druce on his tail, Lumley appeared to lose all heart for his work.

Favorites Advance in Wimbledon Tennis

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (UP)—Former champion Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., swept into the fourth round of women's singles play in the Wimbledon tennis championships today with a 6-0, 6-0 victory over Totta Zehden of Germany.

Australia's Ken Rosewall, top-seeded and favored to win the men's title, rolled into the fourth round with a 6-3, 6-2, 6-2 victory over Ivor Marwick of Britain.

Third-seeded Mervyn Rose of Australia kept pace with Rosewall by ousting Jean Claude Molinari of France, 6-4, 6-0, 6-4.

Shirley Fry of Akron, O., third-seeded and beaten twice this year by British girls, rallied to defeat Jean Rinkel-Quertier of Britain, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Baba Madden Lewis of Newtonville, Mass., also reached the fourth round with a 6-3, 6-2 triumph over Shirley Bloomer of Britain.

Sixth-seeded Lewis Hoad continued the victorious Australian march into the fourth round in the men's competition by crushing John Barrett of Britain, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

The sun was blazing and 20,000 fans were on the grounds as the fourth day program began.

The temperature was 78 degrees in the shade and Miss Hart, the 1951 winner, took just 23 minutes to finish off Miss Zehden on the centre court.

The German girl won only six points.

Stubbys Score Minor Boxla Win

Stubbys defeated Tigers, 9-6, in a Greater Victoria Lacrosse Association Pee-Wee League contest prior to the Victoria Shamrocks-Nanaimo Native Sons Intercity League game at Memorial Arena—Wednesday night.

Dale Hayton, Lonnie Restell, Jack Perry and John Mossy each notched two counters for the winners, while John McDonald added a singleton. Vic Wescott with three goals and Bruce McClay, Don Craigdallie and Frank Foster with one goal each scored for the losers.

LAPRADE TO COACH

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (UP)—Edgar LaPrade, centre with the National Hockey League New York Rangers since 1945, said today he had signed as coach of the local west end Bruins.

Shows Holds Junior Lacrosse Scoring Lead

Forward Bob Shows of Oak Bay in the Greater Victoria Lacrosse Association Junior League, has been chalking up points at a torrid pace and is the league's top point getter with 29.

Shows' total is made up of 11 goals and 18 assists in seven games. His 18 assists are also high for the circuit.

Teammate Don Sherry is the leading goal scorer with 20 to his credit, and is also second in the point race with 27.

Oak Bay is far out in front in the team department with seven wins in as many games, while second-place Esquimalt has three victories and four defeats.

ARCHIE MOORE

Moore Retains Title

OGDEN, Utah (UP)—

Archie Moore, his light-heavyweight crown firmly in place, today looked toward South America for new fields to conquer because heavyweights champ Rocky Marciano is "all tied up."

"There's nobody much left to fight here," said Moore's manager, after Moore defeated former champ Joey Maxim in Wednesday night's title fight.

"I'm thinking of taking Archie down to South America and see what's down that way."

At 36, Moore was riding the crest of the light-heavyweight division.

He beat Maxim before 10,000 fans who paid an estimated $58,000 to watch Moore pile up an impressive lead through the middle rounds, using a sharp left hook.

The hardest punch of the night, however, was tossed in the 12th when Moore caught Maxim coming in with a short right cross to the temple. Maxim blinked and held on, but wasn't in trouble.

There were no knockdowns, and neither fighter was ever in obvious danger.

Referee Ray Meier scored the fight 7-6-2, Judge Nat Flesher 8-7, and Judge Ken Schulsen 7-5-2.

They nearly all agreed that Moore won the seventh through the 13th rounds to pile up his winning edge.

In the semi-windup, Utah heavyweight Reg Layne knocked out Billy McClure, Los Angeles heavyweight.

Rocks Rout Sons

Ninth Consecutive Victory at Home

Shamrocks 16, Nanaimo 7

Nanaimo Native Sons have suffered a double loss of face.

Reputedly possessing two of the fabled players in the Intercity Lacrosse League today, the Sons have seen their aces reduced to the common rank of numbers on the program.

Fred Fulla, the portly goalkeeper, and John Lumley, the eastern woodsman, are, when right, the reasons that Nanaimo will likely gain their first Intercity Lacrosse League playoff berth this year.

Wednesday night at Memorial Arena they were only names on the Sons' roster as the Shamrocks clubbed their way to a 16-7 victory to preserve their unbeaten record at home and boost their league lead to six points.

Marlene Stewart Captures British Amateur Crown

Lampson Street School girls' softball club recently clinched a successful season by defeating Doncaster School, 6-4, in a sudden-death playoff contest.

Salem Takes WIL Lead

Salem Senators are the new kingpins of the Western International Baseball League, and the Lewiston Bronces are in second place, looking up at the berth they had occupied from the start of the season.

Yankees Falter Again, Braves Maintain Lead

HOGAN TAKES ONE LOOK AT CARNOUSTIE, GETS 69

DUNDEE, Scotland (AP)—Bantam Ben Hogan took one look at the tough Carnoustie golf course where the British Open will be played July 6. And then went out on it and shot a 69 Wednesday. Canny, golf-wise Scots were amazed and the little American master of the links was surprised when told that 70 had never been broken in championship play over the 7,000-yard course.

Carnoustie has no accepted par. By American figures it should play about 37-37-74. Hogan had a 34-35-69. Weather varies too much over the sea-side links to permit the establishment of a definite par.

Canadiana Second in Major Stake Event

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. B. L. 45-45. Another one and three-quarter lengths back of E. P. Taylor's invader from Toronto came Belair stud's Sabette, who took the show end of the purse by two and three-quarter lengths from Howell E. Jackson's Ballerina.

Canadiana, ridden by Dave Gorman, sprang into a six-length lead around the clubhouse turn and had opened up as good as eight lengths turning for home with Gremlin Queen and Ballerina closest in pursuit.

Guerin closed the gap until he drove alongside Canadiana at the 16th pole and then went on to win going away.

Japanese Netters Eye Weather From Movies

VANCOUVER (CP)—Summer is on the way to the coast, says the weather man, and his hopes are shared by the four-man Japanese Davis Cup team. Vancouverites still call it "unusual," but it has rained here for days and days, despite the official arrival of summer on Sunday.

The Japanese flew in from Tokyo June 15, planning a strenuous training schedule, but so far they have only been on the courts twice.

They meet the United States team on the grass courts at the Vancouver Tennis Club in the opening matches July 9.

Waiting for the sun to sneak through, Jiro Yamagishi and his three fellow-countrymen have got lots of sleep, written many letters home, and have seen current western movies.

Team manager Yamagishi has an explanation for team members favoring westerns. "You see," he said, "they only know a few words of English. But the action is always the same in westerns so they can get the drift pretty easily without knowing what the actors are saying."

"You may not believe this," smiled Yamagishi, "but a long-range weather report says summer is actually on its way."

And it may be true. The sun came out Wednesday afternoon.

Cricket Comes First Says Aussie Manager

LONDON (AP)—George Davies, manager of the Australian touring cricket team meeting England today in the second of five test matches, denied that his players spend too much time at parties and drinking beer.

Commenting on a Sydney newspaper report that for the Australians "cricket... has taken second place to unnecessary social activities," Davies told, newspaper men the allegation was "an untruthful, sensational exaggeration of facts."

"Two-thirds of them do not drink," Davies said. "Of course there have been some social events, but the players are too keen on the game and their future to go to such excesses as implied in the article."

Both officials and public have at times complimented me on the behavior of the team."

Everybody is irritated by a sluggish engine. To overcome the power-wasting, fuel-wasting condition so many of us complain of, a gasoline additive called TCP has been discovered and developed by Shell Research.

Blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, TCP prevents deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers from causing misfiring of the spark plugs and pre-ignition of the fuel mixture.

For the average motorist this means a power boost of up to 15%... and increase in spark plug life up to 150%... plus an increase in miles per gallon. These facts have been established by over a million miles of standard model road testing.

Enjoy new car pep again... get Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP.

Cricket Comes First Says Aussie Manager

LONDON (AP)—George Davies, manager of the Australian touring cricket team meeting England today in the second of five test matches, denied that his players spend too much time at parties and drinking beer.

Commenting on a Sydney newspaper report that for the Australians "cricket... has taken second place to unnecessary social activities," Davies told, newspaper men the allegation was "an untruthful, sensational exaggeration of facts."

"Two-thirds of them do not drink," Davies said. "Of course there have been some social events, but the players are too keen on the game and their future to go to such excesses as implied in the article."

Both officials and public have at times complimented me on the behavior of the team."

Everybody is irritated by a sluggish engine. To overcome the power-wasting, fuel-wasting condition so many of us complain of, a gasoline additive called TCP has been discovered and developed by Shell Research.

Blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, TCP prevents deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers from causing misfiring of the spark plugs and pre-ignition of the fuel mixture.

For the average motorist this means a power boost of up to 15%... and increase in spark plug life up to 150%... plus an increase in miles per gallon. These facts have been established by over a million miles of

Night Lighting Project Heralds New Era for World Famous Butchart Gardens

GARDENS COMPLETELY ILLUMINATED - TO REMAIN OPEN NIGHTLY TILL 11.30

COMPLETION OF FIRST PHASE OPENS WAY FOR FURTHER IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS

AT sundown tonight, visitors to the Butchart Gardens will see the successful completion of the first important phase in the lighting of the Butchart Gardens.

Congratulations are in order all down the line, from Mr. Ian Ross, owner-manager of the Gardens, and his wife to the firms and the men who have contributed their own time and efforts in the furtherance of a novel and far-seeing scheme.

Phase two will be the dramatization of what has now been created. When this has been accomplished, the Butchart Gardens will become not only a world-famous Mecca for beauty by day, but an enviable and lasting tribute to man's imagination at night.

FIRST PHASE OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE

In the world-famous Sunken Garden alone, Mr. and Mrs. Ross were faced with the problem of lighting four acres. One of the first considerations, they decided, must be the prevention of glare. As Mrs. Ross puts it: "We wanted visitors to see light, not walk into it."

One of the problems of phase one was that of enabling the spectator to move in any direction without getting light directly into the eyes, not an easy job considering the number of 'light points' involved.

As an official of the Canadian General Electric Company put it:

"Moonlight doesn't blind you. Neither does starlight."

The "moons" are 20-foot standard floods. Approximately 12 in number, equipped with 300-watt lamps. The "stars" are 200 cone-lights with 75-foot reflector lamps. All are served by 14,000 feet of wire. Considering the rocky nature of much of the Gardens, the laying of this presented in itself no small a problem.

MR. AND MRS. ROSS CREDITED WITH IDEA

The original idea, to illuminate Butchart Gardens in order to reveal their beauty by night, was the product of the combined imaginations of Mr. and Mrs. Ross.

Necessary permission for the project was granted by Mr. Lance Robson, chief-inspector of Electrical Energy for the Province of British Columbia.

Four miles of underground cable had to be laid. This was done by the direct burial method, the first time on Vancouver Island for such a project. In deciding to light the Butchart Gardens, Mr. and Mrs. Ross also made electrical history.

B.C. CEMENT COMPANY PLAYS MAJOR ROLE

In 1904, Mr. Robert P. Butchart, organizer and first president of the B.C. Cement Co. Ltd., purchased some acreage of limestone rock on the easterly shores of Saanich Inlet.

One evening, in the twilight, as the surrounding lands and waters wore their garments of superb colors, Mrs. Butchart was on the verge of tears as she looked into the gaping chasm which seemed to be the end of all earthly happiness.

At this sad but eventful moment, she had a sudden inspiration. She envisioned this ghastly pit as a sunken garden.

GREAT UNDERTAKING PLANNED

The cement company, having originally created the eyesore, was to become a party to the great undertaking. "Mr. Butchart fell in with his wife's ideas and when death called them in the 1940's they had provided one of the most breathtaking views on the continent.

The B.C. Cement Company which contributed much in the way of time, money and effort to the Butchart Gardens, has always felt a measure of pride in the success of Mrs. Butchart's vision.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND ADDS TO GARDEN'S APPEAL

Owner-manager of the Butchart Gardens, and the man whose imagination helped in large part to set the stage for their illumination up to this point, is Mr. R. Ian Ross, whose mother was the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart.

Mr. H. J. Davis, however, the family solicitor over the years, is the foremost authority on the history of the Gardens. "Mrs. Butchart's love for humanity was as big as her love for flowers," Mr. Davis explains. "Look what she did for me."

GREAT HUMANITARIAN

"If Mrs. Butchart thought someone was looking strained, tense or worried," Mr. Davis remembers, "she would comfort them and instruct her Chinese chef to prepare and serve them a meal. Benvenuto (Welcome), the name she chose for her residence, was more than a name. It was a way of life to her. Small wonder she was named Victoria's leading citizen. Mr. Butchart was a Freeman of the city."

When Mr. and Mrs. Butchart had to leave the Garden in 1938, to live in Victoria, due to Mr. Butchart's ill-health, they were conveyed to her grandson, Mr. Ross, who was then faced with the problem of keeping them open without the same means of caring for their large annual deficits that had been incurred by his grandparents—over the years. Accordingly, it became necessary to charge a small entrance fee.

"Most people fail to appreciate the fact," Mr. Davis explains, "that the maintenance and upkeep of the Gardens involves a considerable amount of money."

"Mr. and Mrs. Butchart paid approximately $25,000 annually out of their own pocket. Consider that sum in relation to the value of our money today. Consider also that last year $60,000 in wages alone were paid, and you begin to understand something of the financial job ever in front of Mr. and Mrs. Ross."

MUCH CREDIT DUE FAMILY SOLICITOR

It is not generally known that Mr. Davis, at the request of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart upon their leaving Benvenuto, supervised the management of the garden for almost 10 years. "Mr. Ross was getting his education," Mr. Davis explains. "McGill. Then, during the war, he served on the Atlantic with the convoys. Now that he is back and actively managing the Gardens, it would be a comforting thought to me to know that the public is solidly behind him, helping him to keep the Butchart Gardens going for the future just as Mrs. Butchart kept them on in the past."

130-ACRE ESTATE

The Butchart Gardens at Tod Inlet are part of a 130-acre estate of which 20 acres form the Gardens proper. The original and artistic success of the first garden inspired Mrs. Butchart to extend the scope of her creative ability, leading to gardens of a more highly specialized nature, such as the Rose Garden, the Italian Garden and the Japanese Garden, each designed to fit into a beautifully-landscaped picture.

GREENHOUSE FIRST INTRODUCTION TO GARDENS

Immediately upon entering the Gardens, the famous greenhouse greets the visitor where massive, blossomed begonias are a summer-long feature. These, combined with the hanging baskets of schizanthus which festoon the outside, create an initial and breathtaking effect.

ALWAYS SOMETHING NEW

Despite the innumerable varieties of flowers, trees and vines which carpet, deck and festoon the Butchart Gardens, the search for new types and species continues. One of the oddest is a "close neighbor" of the bamboo family, and which can only be grown in Victoria's temperate climate. In short... the Gardens continue to grow!

SEEDS AVAILABLE TO PUBLIC

In the early years, visitors used to ask for some of the various seeds. The multiplicity of these requests finally led to the establishment of a seed house and to the four-and-a-half acres of seed fields now cultivated.

The sale of these seeds has now become a major aspect of the gardens and, contribute in no small respect to their upkeep. The Butchart Gardens seed catalogue, available upon request, lists the seed of most of the flowers to be found in the Gardens, and also gives helpful advice on cultivation. They also make excellent souvenirs. These seeds can be purchased from Victoria's Post Shop and at the Gardens.

SEEDS FROM OVER THE WORLD

Mrs. Butchart traveled extensively for the sake of her garden. In her travels she continually looked for new seeds. It might be well stated that the St. Franconia was her winter home.

For 20 years she cruised the world, making an annual trip to the Orient. Many of the trees and blooms now touching our Pacific air were nurtured in Japan, of Mrs. Butchart it can well be said:

"She brought the East to our door."

UNLIMITED OPPORTUNITIES FOR PHOTOGRAPHY

Reaction of Fred Tanner, operator of the Victoria Photo Supply Limited, 1015 Douglas, upon hearing that Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross had decided to begin the job of lighting the Gardens, was:

"When one thinks of the Butchart Gardens, one naturally thinks of photographs. I would say, speaking 'per foot,' that the Gardens are the most photographed spot in Canada. Every tree, every vine, every flower is a natural subject, and with the Gardens now being illuminated at night, they'll probably become doubly famous the world over simply on the number of photographs visitors will take."

Fred ought to know. Himself a keen photographer of the Butchart Gardens, he advises countless visitors annually where to obtain the best shots and the particular equipment they need.

WORK DONE BY DAWSON ELECTRIC

The Canadian General Electric Company, Limited, which supplied everything, takes little credit for its own part in this vast undertaking, but gives the honors to the imagination of Mr. and Mrs. Ross and to the work done to date by Dawson Electric.

V. C. (Vic) Dawson is a well-known electrical contractor in the district with experience on other projects in Canada before coming to Vancouver Island in 1944, when one of his first jobs was that of putting in increased generating power for Lower Vancouver Island for the Brentwood power house.

For the past six years he has done electrical maintenance work at the Butchart Gardens.

"I don't think we can give too much credit to Vic Dawson for his part in this," Ian Ross states. "He has really worked hard, day and night, and with his help a lot of the work that has been done would not have been possible."

PIONEERING HAFFER BROS. CLOSELY ASSOCIATED WITH GARDENS

The assembling of the light standards was handled by Haffer Brothers who did the welding and construction work.

The three Haffer Brothers, with their machine and repair shop at RR 2, East Saanich, have been in business 25 years and have looked after the Gardens all that time. One of their first major jobs was the maintenance of all machinery work on the road when Benvenuto Avenue was first paved in 1928.

"The gardens are a real asset to the municipality," Haffer Bros. point out. "Now that they're being illuminated at night, more people than ever will want to come and see them."

PACIFIC SHEET METAL JUSTIFIES CONFIDENCE

The work done by Pacific Sheet Metal Works, Limited, 1099 Yates, is of major importance.

The Ross's had to choose a firm with the necessary skill, experience and requirements needed to take care of all the sheet metal work and competently handle plumbing details in addition.

"We were greatly honored when they approached us," an official of the firm commented. "We are proud to feel that we are connected with the enterprise which, now that the first phase is complete, cannot auger anything but continued success in the next."

GARDENS ARE OPEN

"My wife and I wondered if we should open the Gardens at this particular stage," Mr. Ross told correspondents. "We decided we would for two reasons. First, a lot of visitors want to see the Gardens by day, anyhow, and would be disappointed if we closed them. Also, we felt that people might like to come and see what has already been accomplished. These people will be welcome and all we ask of them is their understanding of what we had to face and of what yet lies ahead. We're confident we'll have that understanding."

What the visitor will see after sundown tonight at the Butchart Gardens will recall what has already been stated, and create agreement in his own mind that here is something, potentially so vast that it can be described as nothing else but one of the most prodigious feats of lighting yet attempted in Canada.

At this immediate point, nothing but admiration can be felt for the initiative, the imagination—even the daring—displayed by Mr. and Mrs. Ross. As a husband-and-wife team working together, pulling together, they have already accomplished much with the understanding, assistance and artistic horticultural knowledge of Mr. Ross's mother, Princess Chikmatoff and his aunt Mrs. William C. Todd. With them in charge, one can only feel that the history of the Butchart Gardens, already so great, will increase in fame and go on to even bigger and better achievements.

Their present success is their promise for the future.

NEW ERA OPENED IN LIGHTING

Eastern officials of the Canadian General Electric Company, Limited, following a recent inspection of the lighting system thus far installed in Butchart Gardens, stated that it "could easily lead to the opening up of a completely new era, not just in garden lighting but in home lighting as well. These officials have requested a picture of Butchart Gardens illuminated at night for publication in 'Light Magazine,' the company's trade journal distributed over the entire continent."

The result of this, publicity-wise, to Victoria and to the Gardens, themselves, cannot be too highly viewed or regarded.

C & C TAXI SERVICE BOOSTERS FOR GARDENS

Victoria's C & C Taxi Service Limited, 906 Government, are great boosters of the Butchart Gardens, and annually drive hundreds of tourists out to enjoy their beauties.

As a world-famous beauty spot, and one of the highlights of any trip to Victoria, the Butchart Gardens are the subject of countless inquiries. From their long experience and association with them, the C & C Taxi Service is in an excellent position to advise visitors and suggest the spots in the Butchart Gardens especially worthy of attention and photographic record.

ROYAL BLUE LINE TOURS OFFER MAXIMUM VALUE

Having carried thousands of passengers to lovely Butchart Gardens in the course of its tour activities over the years, Royal Blue Line is happy that the extensive work at the Gardens should fall on the same year that it too is engrossed in a broad plan to provide the finest of sightseeing services.

With tour headquarters at Belleville and Government Streets, Royal Blue Line will officially open, within a month, a new architecturally designed sightseeing centre which will offer complete facilities for tour information and bookings.

In the past 10 days the company has also added to its already familiar royal blue and cream fleet a sparkling new "Voyageur" custom built sightseeing bus. Such de luxe comforts as soft foam cushions, planned view windows and eye-appealing interior colours have been a first consideration in the $22,000 vehicle.

To the six specialty tours operated, Royal Blue Line is adding, as a result of innovations at the Gardens, a seventh—a "Sunset Special"—so timed as to give passengers a refreshing, relaxing trip through the city and country-side bathed in the glory of sunset. Arrival time at the Butchart Gardens near twilight assures the visitor of enjoyment of the bounteous aroma of flowers at nightfall and the later vista of the entire gardens aglow with floodlights.

"Sunset Special" in the fact, promises to be an invigorating feature for evening selection even after any of the Royal Blue Line's other widely popular tours, which cover a choice of land and water trip, residential and city garden tour, seafront drive, or the unique Olde England tour.

Butchart's has been a name long synonymous over the American continent and overseas as a definite highlight in a visit to Victoria. Your selection of Blue Line Motor Tours, with its courteous, informed operators, adds assurance of maximum pleasure and enjoyment on your sightseeing trip to the Gardens.

GRAY LINE ENJOYS CLOSE ASSOCIATION WITH GARDENS

For a quarter of a century, many thousands of visitors to Victoria and Vancouver Island have availed themselves of Gray Line Sightseeing Tours to the Butchart Gardens.

Annually, through its worldwide network of travel agents, the beauty and splendor these Gardens is brought to the attention of thousands of prospective travellers to the Pacific Northwest. This new and progressive step in lighting will influence still more visitors to this city, and the Gray Line of Victoria wishes to extend its appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross for their initiative in the further development of Victoria's primary industry, the tourist trade.

Butchart's Gardens Find New Beauty in Night Lights

Butchart's world-famous gardens back to their pre-war perfection, were bathed in new beauty Wednesday when night illumination was inaugurated. Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross, owner-managers of the gardens, were hosts to about 250 guests, including sightseeing officials.

A tour of the gardens followed a reception. The gardens will be illuminated at night from now on.

Carefully-designed lighting—artistic and sometimes dramatic, but never overdone—highlights specially selected areas, while a novel system of indirect low lights borders almost every pathway.

It is the first phase of a large development plan for the gardens.

Over a period of years, Mr. and Mrs. Ross plan to work out lighting effects comparable to anything seen in the world. The second phase of the project is now under study, whereby the gardens will be dramatized with emphasis on theatrical lighting.

WORK THROUGH NIGHT

Mr. Ross, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart, who created the gardens, and Mrs. Ross worked with Dawson Electric Co. staff until 3 and 4 each morning for several days to ready the gardens for last night.

One light under water in the sunken garden pool reveals hundreds of small fish. Various unusual trees and shrubs dotted throughout the garden are given special lighting effects.

Paper lanterns in the Japanese garden add to the oriental setting and striking effects are achieved in the Italian gardens near "Benvenuto," the famous Butchart home.

Record Winter Grain Movement

WINNIPEG (CP)—Comparative figures for the last nine years show a record winter rail movement of grain at the Port William-Port Arthur elevators. The board of grain commissioners reported Wednesday that lakehead terminals and railways combined to clear 24,904 cars between Dec. 15, 1952, and April 15, 1953. This exceeds last year's total and more than doubles the winter loadings during the heavy 1944-45 year.

Wheat supplies in store and transit were recorded at 247,500,000 bushels for the week ending June 18. This compares with 248,300,000 the previous week and visible wheat supplies last year at this time of 207,500,000 bushels.

Overseas grain shipments were steady during the week with 9,200,000 bushels of wheat moved. Oats totalled 59,000 bushels, barley 3,000,000, rye 300,000 and flax 20,000.

Figures for the export of wheat and wheat flour indicate a comfortable margin over last year's near-record shipment of 355,800,000 bushels will be established. Figures to date show 319,600,000 bushels shipped compared with 292,000,000 last year at the same time.

The all-time record for wheat in grain form only was established in 1928-29 at 354,400,000 bushels.

Country elevator stocks rose slightly during the week as farmers delivered 18,000,000 bushels compared with a shipment of 17,800,000 bushels. Country stocks are almost the same as at this time last year, but shipments from country elevators are considerably higher.

COMMENTS:

CLUES ACROSS

1. FEATS is best. FEATS can stir our emotions, certainly. FEARS are 13 THIRTEENS, emotions.

2. PACK is best. Normally a pack is conducted at a moderate PACE which should not be too fast, worry a soldier unduly. Carrying a pack should not be too heavy, can be extremely uncomfortable.

3. SING is best. Since SINK and swim have opposite meanings, it is literally impossible to SINK while you are swimming.

4. INSURED is best. Since the whole object of being INSURED is to get a sum of money, it is literally impossible to SINK while you are swimming.

5. BITTEN is best. Since the whole object of being BITTEN is to get a sum of money, it is literally impossible to SINK while you are swimming.

6. UTAH is best. Since the whole object of being UTAH is to get a sum of money, it is literally impossible to SINK while you are swimming.

CLUES DOWN

1. DERISION is best. He will not resent a DERISION AS SUCH. It would have to be "bad" or "unwelcome."

2. PLANNED is best. Whatever he may have PLANNED, he will not be in the position to suffer disappointment until he has gone further and actually "LANDED" them.

3. PATH is best. A PATH cannot be widened. It must be left as it is or changed altogether. If a PATH is too narrow, there may be a LITTLE you can do about it.

4. HIT is best. With most people being PIT is just the normal state of affairs. Being a HIT can certainly make a man feel "on top of the world."

5. FAR is best. A person is unlikely to get FAR if he isn't properly "FAR" in the first place. He properly fed to get FAR, which he is more likely to be being unwisely fed.

6. TRUCKS is best. "TRUCKS" can actually CARRY things themselves. TRUCKS merely contain things and are THEMSELVES carried.

7. DOPE is best. It is a substance which can be dangerous, and upon which a strict check should be kept. It is not a "dope" usually be very careful when measuring it out. The precise amount of many an ordinary DOSE of medicine is not critical.

8. SIDE is best. It is certainly wouldn't be natural to HIDE with a person, but you may well HIDE with him for "diplomatic" reasons, of because you have no choice.

9. NEXT is best. NEXT means next, but you may well HIDE with him for "diplomatic" reasons, of because you have no choice.

TOO TOUCHING

Dazed Dutch Swindled By 'Swiss' Miss

AMSTERDAM (CP)—A lovely green-eyed girl with touching ways slipped into Amsterdam society life last March and became a social darling.

The red-haired beauty identified herself as the daughter of United States Admiral Lynde McCormick. Her rich and influential friends delighted in her so-American accent.

Somehow, Miss Molly Maureen McCormick was continually misplacing her checkbook and purse. But the way she would smile apologetically at her wealthy male escorts and murmur: "Would you mind...?" was irresistible.

Molly's "touching" ways extended to an Amsterdam businessman, an unidentified American friend, an airline official, a hotel, a fur shop and even a bank. They all peeled off bills to help.

Only the bank was repaid—after it went to police.

Police said Wednesday Molly is an unemployed 21-year-old torch singer born Verene Vogt in Basel, Switzerland.

The Swiss miss, they said, will be charged with swindling "thousands of guilders" from victims of her taking ways.

U.S. Air Transport Plane Flies Here To Take Youthful Polio Victim Home

An American youngster stricken with polio went home from Victoria Wednesday on a flight to take the child home to Texas.

Doctors said Lance's condition has since improved but that he is paralyzed in his leg and in one arm.

Mrs. Cheney didn't return on Wednesday's flight. She will stay with friends for a few days.

There was no need to worry about medical care during the long trip. The plane carried two medical officers and two flight nurses.

Lieut. Cheney is stationed at the U.S. Air Force base at Harlingen, Tex. The youngster was stricken June 11 while visiting here with his mother. He was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital and when his condition became more serious his father

Itching Scalp — Loose Dandruff

Try This Simple Home Treatment For Quick Ease and Comfort

Here is a great powerful penetrating oil that brings speedy relief from the almost unbearable itching and discomfort. Don't dig with fingernails, that only serves to spread the trouble. Just use equal parts of MOORE'S EMERALD OIL and olive oil. Apply gently with the fingertips to the roots of the hair at least once a day and shampoo every fourth day. You'll find this treatment not only soothes and relieves the itching but helps promote more rapid healing—house flaking dandruff becomes a thing of the past. Scalp clears up and hair begins to thicken. Thousands of bottles are sold every year to give sufferers swift sure relief from the itching distress of many skin troubles. You can obtain Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any drug store.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

By L. G. ROBINSON, DDS

Gremlins or Just Kind Relatives?

(This is the fourth of a series of articles prepared by the B.C. Dental Association as a public service. They will appear daily.)

Is it gremlins, armed with a vial of acid and a small brush that go around dropping acid in our children's teeth and seem to confound our best attempts to control dental decay?

We may try faithfully to observe the rules of mouth health, control diets and enforce cleansing of the teeth after meals; we may feel sure that we have done everything, we have been advised to do, only to find, time after time, that cavities reappear at an alarming rate.

No, it is a sad fact that the harm is often done by those who would willingly sacrifice their own health for that of the children, aunts and uncles, grandparents, friends, even parents themselves.

Why should it be that the kindly impulses of these misguided souls should so often take the form of gifts of cookies, candies, cakes, soft drinks, ice cream smothered in chocolate and sweet sticky syrups, all those confections that are so perfectly adapted to the development of dental decay?

It has been estimated that more than half a million dollars was spent during the past Easter season on candy eggs and animal figures.

GOOD MEAL FIRST

Of course, it is impossible, and in the circumstances perhaps not altogether desirable that our children be forbidden the use of all sweets; but do let us recognize the fact that there is a time and place for them when they will do the least harm. That time and place is after a wholesome, nutritious meal has been eaten.

Sweet and starchy substances should never be served, or made available between meals or before meals.

If we can train ourselves and the fond relatives and friends of our children to use ingenuity in expressing fondness in other, more practical ways—if we can train our children to expect sweets only after meals and to brush the teeth well after using them, we shall have taken a great step forward in the control of dental diseases and decay.

(The B.C. Dental Association will be glad to receive questions on matters related to dental health. It cannot promise to answer all questions individually, but matters of general interest will be discussed in this column. Questions should be addressed to the B.C. Dental Association, care of this newspaper.)

Friday Night Shopping Popular With Victorians

A city-by-law passed in 1952 at the request of small grocery and confectionery store operators, permits large grocery outlets, including chain stores, to remain open until 9 any night, City Solicitor A. J. Patton said today.

Several large stores report inauguration of Friday night openings here "very successful."

They say it relieves the usual Saturday congestion when some stores found it difficult to keep up with the flow of customers. Friday night shopping leaves the week-end free for persons who do not work on Saturday. Mr. Patton stated small grocery and confectionery store operators petitioned the council for a change in hours, chiefly on grounds that tourists could not purchase foodstuffs such as tea, coffee or sugar after 6 in the evening.

A new by-law was passed changing the closing hours from 6 to 9. It applies to all grocery outlets, Mr. Patton said.

Pearkes Nominated In Esquimalt-Saanich

Unanimous Tory Selection for New Esquimalt-Saanich Riding; Criticizes Liberal Waste

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, former MP for Nanaimo, Wednesday night was unanimously nominated Progressive Conservative candidate in the new riding of Esquimalt-Saanich.

He was proposed by Capt. P. W. P. Taylor and Mrs. Nora Lindsay at a meeting in Lake Hill Hall attended by 91 delegates from Saanich, Esquimalt, Metchosin and Sooke.

Gen. Pearkes told the meeting the Liberal party offers no hope for elimination of waste and extravagance in government.

The candidate said the question of freedom is one of the critical issues in the current campaign.

DICTATORIAL ATTITUDE

The Liberals, he said, have developed a dictatorial attitude during their 18 years in office. This attitude threatens the very freedoms which have been fostered by the parliamentary system.

"We have witnessed the slow drift from government by the people through their elected representatives to government by the executive through the various agencies and corporations which it has established," Gen. Pearkes said.

As a member of the government's defense expenditure committee, he said he saw innumerable instances of extravagance, waste and duplication in the defense department which exist also in other government departments.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, Gen. Pearkes said, "somehow did not have the strength of character to abolish the waste and extravagance."

In another address, J. M. MacDonnell, former PC MP for Toronto-Greenwood, was confident that Tory Leader George Drew can fulfill his pledge to cut taxes $500,000,000 a year if elected to government.

MORE COLLECTED

Mr. MacDonnell, who is financial critic for the party, said $300,000,000 a year more than the budget figures approved by parliament have been collected since the war, a surplus which could be used for tax reductions.

The remaining $200,000,000 could be saved in the government's $100,000,000 budget for publicity, the $28,000,000 budget for professional and special services and the $5,000,000 increase in traveling expenses.

Mr. MacDonnell said the Currie Report on irregularities in the Petawawa army camp showed a deplorable condition in one small segment of the defense department budget.

The Liberal government, he contended, refused to have the inquiry extended.

"Does this show a serious desire on their part to deal with the problem?" he asked.

Dealing with election results, he said the Liberals have nothing to hope for west of the Great Lakes. The Conservatives have every reason to expect a sweep in Ontario.

Victoria Man Seriously Hurt In Car Mishap

W. H. Allen Confined To N.D. Hospital

En route home from Toronto, W. Harold Allen, 44, of 3200 Midland Road, Uplands, was injured seriously Monday when the car he was driving crashed off the road in North Dakota, it was learned here today.

His wife, Evelyn, was less seriously injured.

Mr. Allen is reported in serious condition in St. Alexis Hospital in Bismark, N.D. He suffered a possible fractured spine.

Mrs. Allen is in the same hospital. Her injuries had not been determined Wednesday night. Both were flown from Bowman, N.D., for treatment.

Bismark police said the accident occurred late Monday night. The Allen late-model Cadillac careened off U.S. Highway 12, rolled over four times and finally wound-up in some bushes.

Their daughter, Marie, left Victoria Wednesday for Bismark hospital. She is being driven there by Rev. Percy Williams of the Victoria Shanty-men's Christian Association.

FIGHT POSTPONED

QUEBEC (CP)—Promoter Paul Blamondon said today a Canadian bantamweight championship fight between Fernando Gagnon of Quebec and Stan Almond of Vancouver has been postponed a second time to July 1.

POLICE HANDLING SPCA CALLS WHILE INSPECTOR ON HOLIDAY

Between July 1 and 12, reports of animal accidents and other similar emergencies should be made to the local police, advises Victoria branch, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

During that period the society's inspector will be on holiday, and the small animal ambulance will be overhauled.

The great explorer Simon Fraser in 1807 established a fur post at or near the site of Prince George, B.C.

The first settlers in Pictou County, Nova Scotia, came from Philadelphia in 1767, followed by Scottish Highlanders in 1773.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif.—Officials of the Swallows Back to Capistrano Committee reported today an extraordinary increase in the bird population here.

In addition to the regular influx of returning swallows, committee states the area is over-run with foreign seagulls, creating a housing shortage and tremendous competition for all available bird jobs.

Local bird-watchers are suffering from eye strain as they try to keep up with the visiting birds.

It is believed the foreign seagulls are birds formerly employed in the Follow the Birds to Victoria guide service.

"It appears that the weather is so bad in Victoria, nobody wishes to follow the birds any longer," explained an official. "This has created bird-unemployment in the Vancouver Island district, and the birds are moving south in search of work. Also sunshine."

VICTORIA—President of the Chamber of Commerce announced today a new industry for Victoria.

The manufacturers of the Handy Dandy Double Duty Combination coal and snow shovel will shortly open a branch factory to keep up with burgeoning demands for its product.

The Chamber president also says he has high hopes other new industries will take advantage of Victoria's new climate to open factories here. He especially mentioned the Red Flannel division of Dominion Textiles and the Olde English Eare Muff Company.

WHITE HORSE, YUKON TERRITORY—George I Warren, former commissioner of the Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau, arrived here today on his way to the North Pole.

It is understood Mr. Warren intends to open an electric appliance agency in the far north.

"It will be easier to sell electric refrigerators to the Eskimos than it is to persuade tourists to visit Victoria under present weather conditions," he explained.

VICTORIA—City council last night unanimously endorsed a plan to give Victoria back to the Indians.

A special sub-committee of three was named to negotiate terms with the Indians, and was authorized to throw in a cash bonus as an incentive if necessary.

Council agreed it should not spend taxpayers' money unnecessarily, but that this is an emergency.

OTTAWA—The Department of Indian Affairs today received the following wire from a committee of Victoria Indians:

DEMAND PROTECTION FROM FOUL PLOT OF CITY COUNCIL TO GIVE VICTORIA BACK TO INDIANS STOP WE ARE HELPLESS MINORITY BUT STILL CITIZENS STOP HELP STOP.

KIWANIS EMBARRASSED

Wrong Place, Wrong Time, Otherwise Circular Fine

What can you do with 30,000 invitations which, because of typographical errors, don't vite people to the right place at the right time?

That's the problem that faces Ed Maliek, president of Kiwanis Village Ltd. The club printed up the circulars to ask people to an open-house at the village, Saturday and Sunday, from 2 to 8 p.m.

The club now has the invitations ready for mailing but, alas, a mistake by the printers. Because the invitations were to be good for a door prize draw on a television set the club has decided to print a coupon in city papers which will be good for the draw. The public is asked to bring the coupons, filled in with name and address, to the village Saturday and Sunday.

There will be directional signs at the corner of Hillside and Fernwood pointing the way to 2900 Cedar Hill Road, site of the project.

The open-house is part of a continuing drive to raise funds for completion of the Kiwanis Village. The public may send donations to the Kiwanis Club of Victoria, or through any chartered bank in the area. The project includes 38 beautiful homes to be rented at low price to elderly Victoria couples.

Mason Death Accident

Death by accident was the verdict of a coroner's jury today enquiring into the Tuesday morning death of a Melchiosin youth, David S. Mason.

Fatally injured during the second day on his first job, he was unconscious six days prior to death.

He would have been 19 next month.

Workmen from the Rocky Point arsenal project testified that the youth was one of a team of four men carrying 350-pound studded plywood forms to a piling area during a high wind. The top form from a pile eight feet high blew off and fell on them, striking Mr. Mason on the head.

Dr. A. McGill, summoned to the accident, said the youth had suffered a neck fracture and brain hemorrhage. His skull was not fractured. He improved steadily for four days, then began slipping and an operation was performed Monday. He died early the next day.

The men, employed by General Construction Company, testified that they are not required to wear safety hats on the job. The jury brought in a recommendation that hard hats be worn on any construction job where lumber or other materials are piled taller than a man's head.

Timekeeper Wilfred Knapp told the jury that although the job is only "19 or 20 miles" from the city it was 45 minutes after he phoned for an ambulance that it arrived.

The deceased was born in England and had lived in this area for six years. He is survived by his parents in East Sooke, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Mason, and by one sister, Mrs. Barbara Donahue, 1232 Yates. Funeral will be held from St. Mary's Church, Melchiosin, at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

GYROS BUY CADBORO PARK SITE

Clubmen Promised Volunteers' Aid

The Gyro Club is going ahead with its $50,000 Cadboro Bay park project.

George Barr, club director and one of the moving spirits behind the project, announced today purchase of the 4.4-acre site, fronting on Sinclair Road and with a 120-foot access to Cadboro Bay beach.

"Before we are through the total value of the park won't be far off $60,000," W. C. Hudson told The Times.

"We got a bargain on the property," he added. "President Denis Humphries, who has worked hard on the plans, signed a cheque for $4,500."

Meanwhile, the Gyros have been given the assurance of Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee that machinery will be lent to do necessary filling and excavating on the site.

VOLUNTEER AID

Councillor Roy Wootton of Saanich, spokesman for the outside workers of the municipal staff, has given assurance of their voluntary assistance on week-ends and the necessary authority from Saanich council has been received.

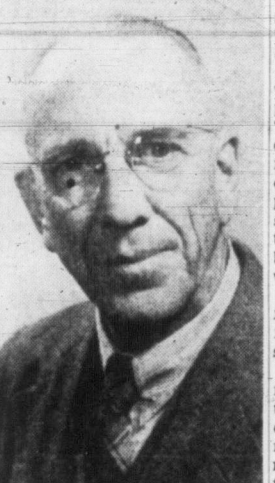

"We want to start immediately," Mr. Barr said.

The project calls for early erection of bathing houses, lavatories and playground equipment and complete landscaping.

"This is a long-range scheme," Mr. Barr emphasized. "We can't do it all at once. We haven't the money."

The work might carry over for as many as 10 or 15 years, he added.

Former B.C. Geographer Dies in City

The Late MAJOR FIRTH

Major William G. H. Firth, 67, 22 Howe Street, former chief geographer of B.C., died in Royal Jubilee Hospital today.

He joined the Lands Department in 1912.

From 1929 to 1931 he was in charge of mapping which resulted from the Pacific Great Eastern resources survey undertaken by the province and two national railways.

He leaves his wife, a son Ian, overseas with the RCAF; two daughters, Anne, Victoria, and Catherine, Vancouver, and a brother, James, of Victoria.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of B.C. Funeral Chapel.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Is Thompson Cove on the east side of the Saanich Inlet side of Saanich Peninsula?

N.B.

A.—It is on the west side of the peninsula, at the end of Mount Newton Crossroad, on the east side of the inlet.

Q.—Did the musical comedy, "Prince of Pilsen," ever play in the old Victoria Theatre?

A.M.L.

A.—Yes, April 15, 1913. The touring Henry W. Savage Company was headed by "Jess" Danby as Hans Wagner. The Daily Times next day said: "Last night the Victoria Theatre was sold out, and the audience, most of whom undoubtedly had seen productions before, did not sober for an instant, and there was enough left over to keep people laughing between acts and half the way home."

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times," Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest.

Lawyer for 52 Years

Words of advice backed by 52 years' legal experience went to David Tupper, right, when he met A. Hamilton Read at the annual meeting of the Law Society of British Columbia in Empress Hotel. Mr. Read was articled in England, practiced there for nine years before moving to B.C. He is 74. With Mr. Read is his wife, Mrs. Edith Patterson Read, who is also a barrister. Mr. and Mrs. Read and Mr. Tupper practice in Vancouver. (Times photo by Halkett.)

Vancouver Q.C. Heads B.C.'s Law Society

A. C. DesBrisay, QC, of Vancouver, was elected treasurer of the Law Society of British Columbia as the annual meeting opened in Empress Hotel this morning.

At noon today, he took over his official duties from the retiring treasurer, W. H. M. Haldane, QC, of Victoria.

The law society meeting today will be followed Friday by the annual meeting of the B.C. Section, Canadian Bar Association, also in the Empress Hotel.

In presenting his annual report to the law society, Mr. Haldane noted a period of rapid growth in the number of barristers in B.C. since the end of the Second World War.

"At the end of the war, there was something of a dearth of practitioners in B.C.," he noted. "That position has completely changed, and there are relatively few vacancies, either in the city or the country. You will appreciate the rapidity of expansion in the profession when I tell you 60 out of every 100 members have come to us since the war."

Mr. Haldane anticipates no further rapid increase, except for the steady growth necessitated by expanding population.

In concluding his report, he recalled the oath of allegiance to the Queen taken by members of the society. "In this Coronation year, I think I should reiterate our profound devotion to Her Majesty, and our loyalty to the crown which she now so gracefully wears, and which is the symbol of our allegiance," he said.

Other reports presented this morning were: Credentials, A. J. Cowan; Discipline, T. G. Norris; Libraries, D. E. McTaggart, and Legal Aid, A. J. Cowan.

Hon. Mr. Justice A. M. Manson was scheduled to be guest speaker at a luncheon meeting for members in Crystal Garden today. Internal business of the society completed the afternoon agenda.

Judge Matthew Hill of Seattle, Judge of Washington State Superior Court, will address a dinner meeting in the Empress this evening.

Commission Refuses Rockland Rezoning

Apartment Plan Not Recommended For Single-Family Home District

Rezoning of the southwest corner of Rockland Avenue and Moss Street to permit erection of a seven-building apartment project was not approved by Victoria Town

Ker & Stephenson Ltd., representing the unnamed owners of the property, asked for rezoning from single-family to apartment, June 4.

Town Planning Commission, reporting to city council meeting today, said it did not recommend rezoning as the site was in a "good, single-family residential district."

The commission felt the dis-

NEW SUPER-VALU STORE LARGEST

A new Super-Valu store, now nearing completion at Pandora and Stadacona, will be the largest of its kind on Vancouver Island, an official of the company said today.

Fixtures are now being installed and interior painting done. It is hoped to open the store sometime between July 15 and July 22.

Store Hours Outside City Jurisdiction

City council could not act on the results of the proposed referendum for all-day Wednesday opening, Arthur Patton, city solicitor, told council meeting today.

Executive committee this week agreed to recommend to council that a referendum be put to the voters in December, asking if they wished to permit stores, catering to tourists, to remain open Wednesday afternoons from June 15 to Sept. 15.

Mr. Patton, in a report to council, said the Shops Regulation and Weekly Half Holiday Act of 1945—a provincial statute—rules that stores must close one-half day during the week.

A referendum would merely be an expression of opinion, Mr. Patton said.

The city could not act on it in the face of present legislation, he said. An amendment would have to be made to the provincial act before a "legal by-law" could be passed and given effect by council, Mr. Patton said.

The city, however, could, by referendum, change the day for closing at 1 p.m., he added.

and "the large sum required for one investor," Ker and Stephenson had planned to subdivide the area into seven separate lots. There would be an apartment on each.

City Council does not have to accept TPC recommendations. The commission did not approve rezoning of 1244 Richardson Street from single-family to light industry as requested by present owners, Crystal Spring Beverage Co. Ltd.

The TPC stated the plant was located in "the midst of one of the best residential districts of the city." It is a non-conforming use at present. The commission feared making it a permanent use would be detrimental to surrounding property.

Request from J. Pallantieri for rezoning from commercial to garage of the northwest corner of Gorge at Dunedin was not approved on grounds that the area is well served by service stations.

Socred Storm Story Recorded

For the first known time in local political circles, the Oak Bay Social Credit Association Wednesday night used a tape recorder to record proceedings of a special closed meeting. Radio Station-CKDA engineer Norman Bergquist is pictured above setting up the instrument at St. Mary's Hall, Yale Street. The meeting was held to discuss president George Alexander's action in protesting the suspension of two senior civil servants, W. A. Scott, one of the main objectors to the suspension, also took a tape recorder to the meeting.

cials who protested the government's action in suspending the officials for allegedly accepting a change in a bid on a grader after the tenders had been opened.

The meeting did not accept the proffered resignations of Mr. Alexander and A. R. Taylor, secretary-treasurer. They will be dealt with at a meeting for election of officers "early in July."

Mr. Alexander, Mr. Scott and Mr. Holker were severely criticized from all sides for their action in protesting to the government the suspensions without first getting the approval of the association.

NO SUPPORT

It is understood Mr. Alexander couldn't get any support for his contention that the issue was not whether the bids should be changed, but that the officials were never given a fair trial.

Mr. Alexander, and his two supporters, supported the motion about tenders.

The gathering took the stand that Mr. Alexander was a fine young man, but was misled by Mr. Scott and Mr. Holker.

Mr. Scott, bitter from the treatment the meeting meted out to him and his supporters, said today:

"I've never seen hate and prejudice change the intelligence of a group of people like this. Last night it was proved that there is nothing more devastating than the truth."

"I was muzzled, and George

Alexander was mentally imprisoned. None of us could give a proper explanation of our action. Mr. Alexander was given only 15 minutes, and I was shouted down after only five minutes.

NO CHANCE TO TALK

"We didn't get a chance to tell what went on in Ron Worley's office, or with the premier. They made it impossible from the start. Never have I seen such fear."

"It's no longer Social Credit—it's Bennettism. No one can now conscientiously support Social Credit principles in B.C. It's either support Bennett or get out."

Asked if he'll resign, Mr. Scott said: "It isn't me who should resign, it's the Social Credit imposters who should quit."

Mr. Scott, who took a tape recorder to the meeting (the association also had one in operation), said a group of Oak Bay Social Crediters tried to confiscate his machine when he was in a car outside St. Mary's Hall.

THREATENING

"They were quite threatening. They wanted to muzzle me. They feared I would release the recording to the press. They demanded I give them the recorder, but I refused."

"I said I had no right to divulge anything that took place in the meeting because it was in camera. They said the press and the public had no right to know what went on at that meeting," said Mr. Scott.

Mr. Scott said this morning that they "laughed and jeered" at Mr. Alexander's statement that "a man is innocent until proven guilty."

He challenged the association to make public the meeting's proceedings as recorded on its own tape recorder.

WOULD SPELL RUIN

"It would spell ruin to Bennettism," he said.

Local Socreds pointed out that the association had every right to hold a closed meeting and that Mr. Scott was breaking faith by divulging what was said at the gathering. They said the newspaper reports of the meeting obviously had been taken from Mr. Scott's recording.

Mr. Holker said he was "disappointed and shocked" at the behavior of those attending the meeting.

"It was beautifully rehearsed," he said. "I don't know if I want to be bothered with the party any more after that exhibition." Mr. Alexander said: "As far as I'm concerned the issue is dead."

SHOPPING GUIDE

Let's Pretend It's Summer!
Flowers Are Here Anyway...

By PENNY SAVER

Summertime is lowertime... and although Victoria isn't having much of a summer, it's got plenty of flowers! Brightly hued summer flowers are everywhere... I can't say I'm complaining!

Decorate your home with vases of multi-colored sweet peas, which are 35 cents a bunch, or gladioli, that sell for $1 for half a dozen. Eater Reed daisies are in their prime at present and are priced at 29 cents a bunch. The ones I saw were tinted... pale blues, greens, yellows and pinks. Combined, they make a very unusual and attractive centerpiece. Dainty bouquets of violets surrounding a single pink tea rose are 29 cents.

Arrangements of flowers is important. A bowl of flowers is just a bowl of flowers... no matter how beautiful and sweetly-scented the blossoms may be, there is nothing outstanding about them if they are crammed "any old how" into the bowl. Space your flowers artistically, and use shades that combine well together. Something like a small wire wheelbarrow makes a rather unusual container. The lightweight barrow, made especially for floral arrangements, costs $1.50 and for just 25 cents extra, you may purchase a holder for the flowers, to fit inside.

Looking for an umbrella? You will may be, in this weather! I bought one yesterday... a real dilly! I paid $6.50 for it. It's a warm rusty color, which gets gradually fainter and turns to yellow. Get what I mean? It's rather like a rainbow, the colors seem to melt into each other. If my choice doesn't go with your outfit, here are some shades you can get it with: brown turning to green, purple turning to pink, and blue turning to grey... very smart!

China place card holders add to any dinner party table setting. I noticed some very reasonably priced ones yesterday... they were just 45 cents each. Made in Germany, they come in various floral patterns... go easy, now, they're breakable!

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

At Island Lodge

Dr. J. Murray Speirs, a member of the staff of Toronto University, and Mrs. Speirs, have been holidaying on Vancouver Island. Recently they were guests at Forbidden Plateau Lodge. Both are keen ornithologists and claimed to have seen 56 different species of birds in the neighborhood of the lodge in one day. Other recent guests at the popular resort included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Streight, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Knowle, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Nevard and Miss B. MacGillivray, all of Victoria; Mrs. E. Smythe, Mr. Hugh Scott and Mr. R. Houston of Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCarthy, West Vancouver.

Parties for Popular Bride-Elect

Miss June Riggs, who will be an attendant at the wedding of Miss Pat Pottinger Saturday evening, entertained recently at a shower at the home of her mother, Mrs. G. Brooke, Midgard Street. Corsages of pink and yellow carnations were presented to honored guests, and gifts for the bride-elect were contained in a flower basket trimmed with red roses.

Invited guests were Mrs. C. Pottinger, Mrs. J. Worley, Mrs. B. McCoubrey, Mrs. B. Kent, Mrs. B. Webb, Mrs. R. Pilon, Mrs. E. Adrian, Mrs. G. Brooke and Misses Eva Hawkins, Barbara Gurney and June Riggs.

Miss Pottinger was also honored at a shower given by Mrs. J. Bramley at her home on Pakington Street. A crystal bowl of flowers, crystal candle holders and pink candles centred the lace-covered table. Presentations were made to the honor guest by Mrs. C. C. Pottinger, Mrs. T. Hoggarth, Mrs. E. Hoggarth, Mrs. R. Bramley, Mrs. M. Holland, Mrs. J. Hall, Mrs. M. Hirst, Mrs. J. Hall, Mrs. H. Pottinger, Mrs. J. Worley and Misses June Riggs, Alice Pottinger, Muriel Pottinger, Rita Hall, Shirley Hoggarth and Bobby Anne Wrathall.

Misses Eva Hawkins and Val Brown were co-hostesses at another shower for Miss Pottinger at the latter's home, 321 Michigan Street. A decorated cart, trimmed with white carnations and pink roses, held gifts. Corsages of carnations and roses were presented to honored guests.

Invited guests were Mrs. C. C. Pottinger, Mrs. T. Hoggarth, Mrs. S. Brown, Mrs. L. Ritchie, Mrs. B. Wrathall, Mrs. J. Parker, and Misses June Riggs, Blanche Brown, Betty Collis, Val McAllister, Pat Whan and Barbara Gurney.

Roberta Ballantyne Feted

Miss Roberta (Bobbie) Ballantyne was honored last evening when her aunt, Mrs. A. J. Heard, and cousin, Miss Lorraine Heard, entertained at a linen shower at their home on Clifford Street. The bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. W. Ballantyne, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. Irene Birtwistle, received corsages of carnations and roses. A miniature bride and bridesmaid, beneath an archway centred the coffee table and gifts were presented in a decorated basket.

Among the guests were the bride-elect's attendants: Mrs. Gordon Ballantyne, Dawson Creek, matron of honor; Mrs. Winnie Hall, bridesmatron, and Misses Doris Cadwallader and Lorraine Heard, bridesmaids. Other guests were Mesdames E. Phillon, C. Butler, C. Quest, W. Herber, G. Pears, E. Blunt, G. Robertson, A. Cave, H. Pellett, H. Poole, H. Roberts, A. Ferguson and Miss Joy Wilson.

Miss Ballantyne was also honored at a shower given by Mrs. Alan Ferguson and Miss Winnie Lee, at the former's home, Tod Inlet. The honor guest and her mother were presented with corsages of sweet peas. Miss Deanna Ferguson presented the gifts, which were contained in a box decorated in gold and red.

Guests were Mrs. R. Carrier, Mrs. S. Shiner, Mrs. E. Rice, Mrs. H. McCall, Mrs. E. Clark, Mrs. I. O'Neill, Mrs. T. Spry, Mrs. J. Marshall and Mrs. M. Ballantyne.

4763 2-10
by Anne Adams

Sewing? Easy! Ironing? None if you make this sun-semble of wash-and-wear seersucker or nylon. She'll tan beautifully in that halter top, and toss on the bolero for Sunday dressing. Whip this up in a jiffy, then relax the rest of the summer. Quick, send now!

Pattern 4763: Children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, 10. Size 6 dress 1 1/4 yards 35-inch; bolero 1/2 yard.

This pattern easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fit. Has complete illustrated instructions.

Send 35 cents (35c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Print plainly size, name, address, style number. Send order to Anne Adams, care of The Times, Pattern Dept., 60 Front St. W., Toronto 1-A, Ont.

If you would paint comfortably, hold your brush so that a free and easy wrist movement can be co-ordinated with the movement of your arm and body. Hold the brush firmly, yet lightly, and keep the pressure uniform. This keeps the bristles from wearing down unevenly.

AS WE LIVE

Married Daughter Should Leave Dominating Mother

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a woman is old enough to marry, she is old enough to stand on her own feet. Domination by her mother leads to trouble with her family. That is what is happening to this wife:

(Q)—"As far back as I can remember my mother has been very domineering. My sister ran away from home after marriage when she was 18. Now I am married and have a young child. We live in an apartment in my mother's home but I don't think this is a very good arrangement as my mother is constantly telling me what to do. But places are hard to get and so expensive. Also I don't want to hurt my mother by leaving her. Would I be considered a cruel person if I moved away?"

(A)—Your mother would doubtless consider you "cruel and heartless" if you moved out from under her roof but I am sure your husband and your friends would applaud you for doing so.

Your mother would try to use tears, heart attacks or any other trick she could think of to keep you near her and she would certainly make you feel that you were an ungrateful daughter. But you must show that you have some will power and can "take" her accusations and tears.

Moving does not mean that you will desert her or neglect her if she needs your help. Your duty as a daughter will be to see that she is comfortable and never in want.

You should not have this responsibility alone. Your sister owes her mother something just as you do. Put this to your sister.

As a woman grows older it is not wise for her to live alone. Since there is an apartment in your mother's home, and since apartments are hard to get, there should be no trouble about renting hers to an outsider. You will feel that there will be someone available should any emergency arise. You can call your mother daily to see if all is well, but you will be away living your own life without her domination. That's the important thing.

Weavers' Guild
Elects Officers

Officers of Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild were elected by acclamation at the annual meeting held at 1303 Broad Street, Tuesday.

Mrs. David McKechnie will serve a second term as president and other officers will be: Mrs. H. R. Clark, vice-president; Mrs. George Anstey, secretary; Miss Iola Worthington, treasurer; Mrs. K. Porter, library; committee conveners are Mrs. Arthur Kinnis, membership; Miss Marjorie Hill, publicity and standards; Mrs. Sydney Pickles, study group for a second term.

Elected to standards committee under Miss Hill were Mesdames W. Ellis, L. Bell, Clark and Hazel Hodson.

Year's work was reviewed in various reports, the financial statement showing the guild to be in favorable condition. Membership convener, Miss A. Lowe, reported a total of 59 members.

Final plans for the exhibition, July 2, 3 and 4, were discussed. Miss Kathleen Agnew will open the exhibition, which is being held in Duke of Kent Room, Empress Hotel, Thursday at 2.30.

Never scour stinless steel. Wash in hot soapy water. If tarnished, apply a solution of one part vinegar and 12 parts water. Allow to remain a few minutes. Rinse and dry.

MONTREAL, June 25th—Have you ever thought that now is "rush period" for thieves? Yes, holiday-time is their busiest season. So many homes are left empty—ripe for the easy picking of valuables. Make sure you don't have to pay for thieves' overtime. Put your valuables and important papers away safely in a BANK OF MONTREAL Safety Deposit Box. I do! It costs so little and it's worth every penny! I can leave home at any time—back on some faraway beach—travel the highways and country roads to my heart's content... with no nagging thought of precious possessions left at home at the risk of fire and theft. All of my papers and little things I care most about are safely stored away—in a Bank of Montreal Safety Deposit Box.

What's More Troublesome in the "good old summertime" than a stuffy, stuffy head-cold? So here's what to do when a summer cold comes it hard to breathe. Spread MENTHOLATUM liberally inside each nostril and sniff well back for soothing relief. Mentholum's medicated vapours relieve irritated membranes almost immediately—ease the stuffiness—and, first thing you know, you can breathe easily again!

Mentholum, with its combination of soothing ingredients in a bland, soothing base, relieves many other discomforts too. Send for a GENEROUS FREE SAMPLE—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

My Family Wouldn't Give A Fig for anything but my own home-made strawberry and raspberry jam. I guess they must be prejudiced. And I am, too. I wouldn't "do down" any way but the CERTO FRUIT PECTIN way. That's the only way I can be sure of results. I don't like roasting my time, money and fruit on anything but CERTO. The true fruit flavor is retained. It's not boiled away as so much of it was in the old-fashioned method. And I find I get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit. Have you tried Certo Fruit Pectin? You'll save 2/3 the time of the former long-boil way of jam and jelly-making. There are grand recipes in the booklet under the label of each bottle of Certo.

Everyone Enjoys A Buffet Supper—host and hostess included. It means no work for them after their guests have arrived... and preparing the supper is part of the fun. Particularly when they have the Heinz chef to help them. Here's a successful Buffet Supper Menu that will show you what I mean—Cold cuts (chicken, ham and cold roast beef). Tossed Salad (make the dressing with HEINZ WHITE VINEGAR). Potato Chips. Pickled eggs (made with HEINZ MAYONNAISE). Your guests' favourite variety of HEINZ PICKLES. Coffee and Cake. Try it for a wonderful party!

Time To Feed Baby... and you forgot to put his potatoes on to cook? But don't worry, mother! I can whip up a serving of creamy-smooth mashed potatoes in just one minute with FRENCH'S INSTANT POTATO. Baby will eat every delicious spoonful... m-m-m-m!—so good! French's Instant Potato is made from top quality potatoes, pre-cooked by a special process that preserves the important nutrients. Simply follow the instructions on the package to make exactly the amount you want—with no waste. Incidentally, baby's serving is prepared differently from grown-ups' servings. Which reminds me, your whole family will enjoy mashed potatoes made with French's. Serve them soon!

Here's A Wonderful Way to get your family to eat breakfast every morning. Simply serve hot "CREAM OF WHEAT" with plump, mellow slices of bananas. Top with milk or cream. "Terrific," they'll say. Yes, and easy, too. Quick "Cream of Wheat" takes only five minutes of boiling to cook to perfect smoothness. And best of all, hot "Cream of Wheat" is truly good for you. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. So, give the family a good start—a quick start for the day. Treat them to hot "Cream of Wheat" for breakfast.

Never scour stinless steel. Wash in hot soapy water. If tarnished, apply a solution of one part vinegar and 12 parts water. Allow to remain a few minutes. Rinse and dry.

St. Margaret's Girls Will Graduate in Prize-Giving Ceremonies Tonight

Fourteen students of St. Margaret's School have reached the crossroad in their scholastic life and tomorrow will face a future that may hold university, travel, or the first step into a career. These are the graduates who, having written their final examinations, will take part tonight in the annual prize-giving of the middle and upper schools of St. Margaret's. Ceremonies commence at 8 p.m. at the school. Rev. P. R. Beattie, B.A., DD., Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, will give the address and present the awards.

They are seen here in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Copeman, St. Patrick Street, where they gathered for a graduation breakfast this morning. Left to right, they are: Beth Jackson, Betty Fowler, Sheila Kingham, Kay Lawrie, Pat Gannon, Jill Ulrich, Daphne Legg-Willis, Pat White, Ann Harvey, Jennifer Ford, Stephanie Quainton, Josephine Ellis, Pamela Campbell and Ann Copeman.

Comdr. and Mrs. A. C. Wurtele will be hosts tomorrow evening at the cocktail hour at their home, Plaskett Place. About 80 guests have been invited to attend.

St. Margaret's Graduation Breakfast

The graduating class of St. Margaret's School and Grade 11 students were honored jointly at a breakfast party this morning at the home of Mrs. J. U. Copeman, 1360 St. Patrick Street. School colors of red and white were carried out in a centre-piece arrangement of roses, and in place cards and other appointments.

Friends Honor Doreen Adams

A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Doreen Adams was given recently by co-hostesses Mrs. R. Adams and Mrs. W. Trace, at the home of the latter, 262 Plowright Road. The bride-elect was presented with a corsage of yellow roses and mothers of the bride and groom-elect, Mrs. B. Adams and Mrs. R. Croft, were presented with corsages of white carnations. A decorated wheelbarrow held gifts and a shower cake with "Doreen" written in icing on top centred the refreshment table.

Guests present were Mesdames V. Adams, D. Croft, J. Adams, R. Thompson, A. Trace, A. Trace, W. McLean, O. Forland, D. Brinkman, A. Pistell and L. McLeod.

Mrs. Frampton Honored

Fellow members on the staff of the city hall gathered recently at the home of Mrs. W. J. Shepherd to honor Mrs. W. G. Frampton, the former Yvonne Meikle, with a no-host post-nuptial shower. The bride was presented with a corsage of Talisman roses and numerous gifts. Refreshments were served from a table-centred with a crystal combined vase and candelabra containing stephanotis, pink blossoms and matching candles.

Games were enjoyed by the following: Mrs. Doris Walls, Mrs. Dorene Goodman, Mrs. Joyce Fraser, Mrs. Margaret Macphail, Mrs. Beryl Watson, Mrs. Nora Bryce, Mrs. Inez Ord, Mrs. Dagmar Wood, Mrs. Flo Daniels, Mrs. Fran Mills, Mrs. Betty Carmichael, Mrs. Elsie Shepherd, Mrs. Elsie Lowthian, Mrs. Peggy Spano, Mrs. Muriel Foulger, Mrs. Mabel Windebank and the Misses Wilmar Herkes, Margaret Speirs, Margaret Andrews, Mary Davidson, Pat Allan, Mary Powers, Betty Collis, G. Lang and Molly Edgar.

Shower at YWCA

Miss Elaine Farmer was honored on Tuesday evening at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Joyce Waller, who will be matron of honor at the wedding. The shower was held in the club room of the YWCA. A corsage of deep pink carnations, and blue cornflowers was presented to the bride-elect, and her mother, Mrs. Ellen Farmer, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. M. F. Davis, received corsages of pink carnations. Centring the refreshment table was a cake with "Best Wishes to Elaine" fed on top. Gifts were presented in a decorated miniature wishing well.

Those present were Mrs. Edith Forsyth, Mrs. Jen Perry, Mrs. Grace Kanwisher, Mrs. Joyce Taylor, Mrs. Lorraine Holt, Mrs. Thelma Crooks, Mrs. Lucy Green, Mrs. Mary Kennedy and Misses Joan Farmer, sister of the bride, who is to be bridesmaid at the wedding; Lorna Forsyth, Betty Heinesson, Betty Cox, Norah MacLennan, Adele Stonehouse and Master Terry Forsyth.

Members of the Major John Hebdon Gillespie Chapter, IODE, gathered at the home of Mrs. Douglas Patterson to say farewell to two members, Mrs. Michael Trew, who leaves shortly for Prince Rupert, and Mrs. Kenneth Cook, who will make her home in Vancouver.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Choir held its annual picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Baxter, All Bay Road, Sidney, recently, with 50 members and friends attending. A buffet supper was served. During the evening a miscellaneous shower was held honoring Miss Edith Newton, choir member, whose marriage to John Jackson will take place on Saturday. She was presented with a copper lamp.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Woods, and Mrs. J. Le Blanc, Vancouver; Miss Janet Beauchene, A. Beauchene and Lou Mitcheaud, Duncan.

For a honeymoon at Cameron Lake, Mrs. Woods wore a grey flannel suit with red and white accessories and red and white corsage. The newlyweds will live at Suite 202, 587 Marfield Avenue, upon return to the city.

Maid of honor, Miss Beverly Woods, wore a pink strapless semi-formal gown with net skirt and lace bolero, carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses and carnations, and wore a floral hair bandeau to match.

Mrs. Fraboni wore a blue lace dress with gardenia corsage, and Mrs. Woods wore a navy sheer dress over check taffeta, white accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations.

Kenneth Smythe was best man and Robert Dale, Bamberton, and Eric Moore, Cordova Bay, were ushers.

a SUPERMARKET

in Your Own Home!

Distance from a shopping centre doesn't matter very much when you have a home freezer bulging with meat, fruit and vegetables frozen just at the peak of perfection.

Time... by being able to "shop" any hour, any day, without running back and forth to the store, waiting in checkout queues.

Money... by buying food in quantity, in season, "on special."

Headaches... over unexpected guests. You've got a whole "food bank" to draw from and if you like you can even cook whole meals... from soup to dessert... weeks in advance and store them against an emergency.

Monotony... in your meals. With summer fruits and vegetables just as fresh in January as they are in June, you can always vary the menu and see that your family gets a well-balanced diet all year round.

KEEP THE "BIG ONES" FOR ANOTHER DAY

A successful hunting or fishing trip doesn't mean you have to eat salmon or game until you're sick of it. Not when you have a home freezer, which will preserve its flavor and freshness for a "special occasion" meal... months from now... when it will be a novelty and a treat.

'Moon Is Blue' Film Rapped by Cardinal

New York Catholics Told By Spellman That Picture Violates Decency Standards

NEW YORK (UP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman told New York Catholics today to stay away from the movie "The Moon Is Blue" because it violates "standards of morality and decency."

The Cardinal, who is Archbishop of New York, attacked the recently-released film in a letter to pastors of his diocese. He said the movie, already condemned by the Catholic Legion of Decency, "bears a serious, potential influence for evil, especially endangering our youth, tempting to entertain ideas of behavior conflicting with the moral law."

The picture was based on a play by F. Hugh Herbert which ran for more than two years on Broadway. It is the story of a girl who meets a boy on top of the Empire State building and goes home with him.

In Hollywood, producer Otto Preminger, who turned out the film version in collaboration with Herbert, said the Catholic criticism was "no concern of mine."

Preminger said a German-language version of the movie, made in Hollywood at the same time as the English version, was praised by critics in Berlin.

"At one outdoor showing 25,000 Berliners saw the picture and liked it," he said. "I don't think Americans are any less sophisticated than Europeans."

The English version, which opened in Chicago this week with the audience restricted to adults, stars William Holden, David Niven and Maggie MacNamara. It did not receive a seal of approval under the motion picture production code nor was it passed by the Breen office, Hollywood's self-censoring agency.

Spellman said the picture was "avowedly produced in defiance of the system of self-regulation which the motion picture industry itself has maintained. It seeks to prove that these regulations may be defied with impunity."

Two FOR THE Show

By PHIL LEE

STANDING IN THE CORNER—That's me with the dunce cap on.

For many a season now I've been wondering why his studio doesn't give splendid actor Frank Lovejoy meatier roles.

However, evidently I've been wondering too much. Because in Wednesday's review of the Royal Theatre's musical comedy, "She's Back on Broadway," the old cabbage and cast-off Stanley Steamer parts, laughingly referred to as my brain, went off at half-cock and I named Lovejoy as the star who played the part of the director when, of course, it should have been Steve Cochran. Lovejoy was the producer.

To my readers, all those delighted persons who phoned and left caustic messages for me last night, my most sincere apologies. Poor show on my part.

I'm now in the midst of disciplining myself by writing "I am an owl!" five thousand times, backwards, and in Pig Latin Hindustani.

Starting its third week today, "A Queen is Crowned" is continuing its record-shattering run at the Odeon theatre. Attendance has passed the 52,000 mark, surely a city theatrical record.

Elliott Brown, the Odeon's manager, looks to adding another 4,000 to this total by the time the J. Arthur Rank production is scheduled to leave town tomorrow. However, it just might be that if the crowds keep up the Coronation film will be held over until July 1.

Mother Said

CALGARY (CP)—Lottie Lund, 37-year-old mother of two, was charged with attempted murder Wednesday after she allegedly pushed her three-year-old son from the third story window of her apartment.

Hospital authorities said the child, Bobby, was not in critical condition at present but his condition might change for the worse.

Pushed Son Out Window

He is believed to have suffered a fractured skull, cuts to the legs and shock.

Police said witnesses saw the incident and that the 34-foot drop was broken when he struck a protruding ledge.

The second child, an eight-month-old girl, is being cared for by the apartment caretaker. The father, Ed Klatt, common-law husband of Miss Lund, was at work at the time.

End of War Would Help Prosperity

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — Trade Minister Howe said Wednesday that the end of the Korean war, instead of being a threat to Canada's economy, would bring "even greater prosperity."

Mr. Howe, speaking at a dual nomination meeting here, scoffed at Progressive Conservative charges that a return to peace-time economy would upset present policies of the Liberal government. He challenged the Progressive Conservative party to offer a better policy of processing raw materials before export.

"Canada must produce material for which there is a market in the world," he said, "not for something for which there is no market."

The nominating convention selected J. Leo Gauthier as Liberal candidate for the new riding of Nickel Belt in the Aug. 10 election and Rodger Mitchell as the party's standard-bearer for the Sudbury riding.

Mr. Gauthier represented Sudbury in the last House.

Bilingualism Advised For Unified Canada

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Adrien Plouffe of Montreal has told the Canadian Authors Association that bilingualism is the road to a real Canadian unity, a unity that will guard against Americanization.

"All Canadians should be Canadiens and all Canadiens should be Canadians," he said in his prepared address before the association's annual convention. Dr. Plouffe is secretary-general of La Société des Ecrivains Canadiens.

"All the dynamic strength of Canada first would be a great help to our mutual understanding and the most solid stronghold against the overwhelming forces of Americanization," he said.

"Let us forget that we are threatened by Americanization, American books, American newspapers, American magazines are pouring into our minds that U.S.A. is the ne plus ultra, the best in the world."

"If we do not pay attention, the time will soon come when our mentality will be entangled in the snares of that pacific

Abbott Says Surplus Was $24,000,000

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance minister Abbott estimated Wednesday that the government had a 1952-53 budgetary surplus of $24,000,000.

This is one-half the $48,000,000 Mr. Abbott forecast in his budget speech Feb. 19, but almost triple the $9,000,000 he predicted at the beginning of the fiscal year. This is the government's seventh consecutive surplus.

The fiscal year ended March 31. Usually the final revenue and expenditure figures are not available for months later.

Mr. Abbott said in a statement that while final audited figures

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1953

Aries (March 21 to April 19)
Take care of important business in the early morning. Later, everyone including you seems under a strain, tense and unpredictable. Guard against offending those in authority.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)
All matters concerning finances or emotions should be attended to early. Double check everything you hear today, taking all precautions possible before committing yourself in any way.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)
A.M. is best time to throw out tensions with co-workers. Later, attend to paying bills, collecting money due you, settling all other current financial problems.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21)
Put daily chores behind you early in the morning. Study disposition of those about you; co-operate without feeling that you are imposed upon.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21)
Early day is best time to enhance your charms with beauty treatments and such. Throughout rest of day and evening stick to ordinary daily duties.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)
A.M. be patient with one in family whose incessant small talk wears you. Listen quietly. Later, make yourself more attractive, personally, through careful grooming.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23)
Morning hours should be used to contact everyone in a position to make your duties less onerous. Solve disputes; attend to correspondence. P.M. situations at home require gentle handling.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21)
A.M. idea for making additional money you've been mulling over should be taken up. Later, thresh out problems with relatives, colleagues. Get out and attend to purchases.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
Take measures for toning up physical health. Then plan budget in which you get the most for your money. Cut out expenditures that give the least satisfaction.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Make plans for week-end this morning; set up appointments. This is one of those days when your self-control will be put to a severe test by the selfishness of others.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Close associate makes valuable suggestion that shows way to realize personal desire. Later, don't let petty troubles bowl you over. Look at them objectively.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20)
Safeguard your reputation; irresponsible chatter of gossiping individual can be harmful. Later, practical-minded friend has suggestions for changes. Accept them.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN FRIDAY . . .
Friday's child has a basically gentle nature, inclined to shyness which at times amounts to timidity. The mind is very active, with a variety of interests. The trouble here is the inability to decide upon any one interest and pursue it long enough to reach a successful conclusion. Encourage friendship, for association with others is an important part of your child's development. Educate in practical lines to lessen danger of drifting from one job to another.

TIME OUT!

FEEL BETTER

After a long day's work, it's time to relax and unwind. The best way to do this is by taking a short break and doing something that makes you feel better. This could be as simple as taking a walk in the park, or as complex as taking a day off work. Whatever you choose, make sure you take the time to relax and recharge your batteries.

Results of Vital After-Care In Polio Are Most Rewarding

More than half of the victims of poliomyelitis do not develop paralysis which requires after-care. What care is required depends, of course, on what muscles are affected and how seriously.

The first step in after-care or treatment of polio after the acute disease has subsided, is to make sure that pain is relieved and to speed the release of muscle tightness. Until this is done, proper motion of the involved part, usually arm or leg, is impossible. The relief of pain and relaxation of muscles is accomplished by the use of intelligently prescribed sedatives, heat, passive motion and simply the passage of time.

As soon as it becomes possible, the effort is directed to stimulating muscular movements. This must be done with great care. In accomplishing it several measures, including massage, may be necessary. Once the plan of action has been decided upon it is possible to proceed with the various measures that are necessary to bring about the greatest possible degree of muscular recovery.

Machinist Union Protests Giving Ship Job to U.K.

Machinists, Fitters and Helpers Local No. 3 (CCL) has joined the list of trade union organizations that has protested the CPR's granting a ferry construction contract to a United Kingdom shipyard, according to union business agent J. A. Cornthwaite.

At the present time, he said Wednesday, there are $45,000,000 representing proceeds from the sale of freighters built during the war, held in escrow by the government for the laying down of new ships.

"We are not using the money, and our shipbuilding manpower is being dissipated," he said.

Mr. Cornthwaite claimed the government should subsidize Canada's mercantile marine, but not the people who are carrying our export goods," he said.

"It should also stipulate that crewmen be members of the naval volunteer reserve that would provide a hard, experience core for a fighting navy if required."

Faith Baldwin Back With Hubby After 25 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Faith Baldwin, author of many romantic novels, and her 60-year-old husband have been reconciled after 25 years of separation. "We have never really been out of love," her husband, Hugh Cuthrell, president of the Brooklyn Union Gas Company, said Sunday.

Far Out at Sea Plane Turns Back for False Fire Alarm

NEW YORK (UP)—An Eastern Airlines plane far over the Atlantic with 38 persons aboard turned back to New York Wednesday when a crewman smelled smoke, but company officials said later it was just vapor escaping from a clogged vent.

The plane, en route to Puerto Rico, first reported that it developed a short circuit in the electrical system when it was about 400 miles from New York. After an inspection here, however, company spokesmen said the electrical system was not involved.

The pilot, Capt. Charles Schuster of Locust Valley, N.Y., told reporters at Idlewild where he landed the four-engine Skymaster that he was "sorry I caused you all this trouble."

"I ordered the turn-around strictly as a precautionary measure," he said.

Schuster said a co-pilot detected the smoke when he walked to the galley for a cup of coffee. He said the crew immediately checked all electrical equipment and ordered the turn-around when the trouble could not be found.

Schuster said the plane was approximately 125 miles off Cape Hatteras, N.C., over the Atlantic, at the time. Coast Guard rescue units were alerted when he radioed he was turning back. Planes from Floyd Bennett Field here and Elizabeth City, N.C., went out to intercept the airliner.

The Coast Guard's fifth district headquarters at Norfolk alerted all life boat stations, air stations and other facilities from North Carolina to New Jersey when Schuster sent another radio message saying he feared structural damage to the plane.

The passengers were told the plane was returning because of faulty electrical equipment and gave no sign of excitement.

Schuster said he took a "precautionary measure" and headed the plane toward the coast near Cape May, N.J. He said he was hoping he could land the plane at Washington, D.C.

After an hour and 15 minutes of "sweating it out," Schuster noticed that the insulation apparently had burned off. It was then that he decided to land at New York instead of Washington.

A plane from Floyd Bennett intercepted the DC-4 and escorted it back to Idlewild International Airport here. The passengers calmly disembarked from the plane. It wasn't until then that they learned exactly what happened.

Forty minutes after returning here, the passengers and crew members continued the flight in a second DC-4.

Strike Right Sought By Federal Servants

Federation Also Demands Collective Bargaining; Present Methods Criticized

QUEBEC (CP)—The Civil Service Federation of Canada passed a resolution Wednesday urging that the federal government press the federal government to grant collective bargaining rights to civil service employees.

Delegates at the annual convention of the federation berated the federal government and Prime Minister St. Laurent for denying the Federation these rights.

The group asked for collective bargaining rights as understood by the Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act. Under the act, the organization would be permitted to strike to back up demands.

An amendment to the original resolution that called for deletion of a clause giving the union power to call a strike was defeated and the resolution adopted by a standing vote.

During the debate, B. Savage, of Toronto referred to the present system of settling disputes as "medieval."

Prime Minister St. Laurent had once referred to collective bargaining as "the best method of ironing out grievances." Yet, Mr. Savage said, "Mr. St. Laurent denies this right to his own civil servants."

Delegates protested Finance Minister Abbott's reason for not giving a general increase to civil servants.

They said a letter from Mr. Abbott, outlining his views, did "not constitute a case."

A resolution to use the Rand formula in an effort to build up the strength of the federation was turned down. Under the Rand formula, dues are collected from all employees in plants where certified unions obtain benefits for all employees—union members or not.

The session turned down a proposal to give postal employees a basic starting salary of $200 a month.

Earlier, the 300-odd delegates voted against giving "absolute" preference to overseas veterans applying for government jobs.

'New Look' for Famed Gardens

Butchart's Gardens has become a fairy-land for night visitors. Special lighting has been installed to add to the attraction of the famous tourist show-piece. A preview of the glimmering garden was given Wednesday night by owner-managers, Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross. Tonight the gardens open to the public. Nightly tours through the gardens will continue to 11.30 p.m. It is expected the illumination of the beauty spot will bring Butchart's greater fame than it now has in many parts of the world. (See story, Page 11.)

Rhee Relents Demand For Reds' Withdrawal

CROSSWORDERS FAIL AGAIN; PRIZE MONEY UP TO $225

Victoria Times' Crossword Puzzle No. 14, which will appear Friday, will be worth $225. Which is one way of saying that again no contestant had the correct solution to Puzzle No. 13, the answer to which is on Page 12.

Usually it is a three or four-letter word that stumps the majority of competitors. This time, however, it was a longer word, "derision," that caused the trouble. A total of 4,080 entries were eliminated when they wrote "decision." Another 2,269 stumbled on "injured," the right word being "insured."

Wild Glasgow Crowd Welcomes Elizabeth

GLASGOW, Scotland (UP)—Crowds surged through police lines toward Queen Elizabeth II today and more than 50 persons were injured before troops and mounted police restored order. A guardsman fainted and others had their bearskin helmets knocked askew when the great throng pressed forward to get a glimpse of the Queen during a review of a guard of honor in Glasgow's George Square.

Some of the injured were taken to hospital while others were treated on the scene.

There was a moment of alarm as the crowd threatened to break clear through the cordon and engulf the Queen. But reinforcements hastily moved into position held back the spectators.

A roaring ovation greeted the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh when they appeared later on the balcony of the Glasgow city hall.

They set out from Edinburgh on a tour of Scottish communities following Wednesday's national Thanksgiving service and were to return there later in the day. They will stay in Edinburgh until Monday.

SOCREDS MAY OUST CRITIC OF CABINET

Clash Sequel to B.C. Suspensions

By GORDON FORBES

A move is under way to expell W. A. Scott, one of the chief objectors to the government's suspension of two senior civil servants, from the Social Credit Party, a prominent Victoria Socred said today.

A motion of censure was proposed at Wednesday night's special closed meeting of the Oak Bay Social Credit Association, but it was postponed until a later meeting.

"The local association can only recommend expulsion of a member. The actual expulsion is done by the B.C. Social Credit League," the Socred explained.

The Social Crediters feel Mr. Scott was the ringleader in protesting the suspensions, and was responsible for causing embarrassment to the government and the local association.

DEVELOPMENTS

Here are the latest developments in the controversy which started when Premier Bennett suspended for one month Don Smith, purchasing commission buying agent, and Bert Crowe, mechanical superintendent for the B.C. Forest Service, for alleged mishandling of tenders.

1. Oak Bay Social Credit Association rebuked its president, George Alexander, and Mr. Scott and Lou Holker for protesting the suspensions.

2. Mr. Alexander said today he won't run for presidency at annual meeting early in July.

3. Mr. Scott charges that meeting wouldn't allow proper explanation by himself, Alexander and Holker.

4. Mr. Scott says he was threatened by angry Oak Bay Socreds who tried to confiscate his tape-recording machine which recorded meeting.

5. Mr. Holker charges the meeting was "beautifully organized" to shout down Mr. Scott.

6. Mr. Holker may quit party.

7. Mr. Crowe submits official grievance to B.C. Government Employees' Association.

POLICY APPROVED

After about two hours of discussion at the St. Mary's hall meeting, the 160 Socreds passed a motion "approving the policy of the government that no tenders be altered after having been received by any government department."

No motion of censure was passed against the three officials.

London's Sex Murderer Sentenced to Gallows

Jury Rejects Defense Claim Christie Insane

LONDON (UP)—John R. Christie, the "Strangler of Notting Hill," was sentenced today to be hanged for the murder of his wife, one of seven women victims.

The confessed sex slayer, pale and trembling, put his hands to his face as if on the verge of collapse as wardens led him away to await the gallows.

A jury of nine men and three women rejected the defense plea that the 55-year-old clerk was insane. They pronounced him guilty of strangling his wife last Dec. 14 at the Notting Hill house where, driven by weird sex urges, he gassed and strangled at least six other women.

Judge Sir Donald Finemore quickly imposed the sentence—death by hanging.

The packed courtroom—Old Bailey's No. 1 chamber—was hushed as the jury returned with its verdict after deliberating one hour and 22 minutes.

A clerk asked whether the jury had agreed.

"Yes," the foreman replied, adding slowly and loudly: "He is guilty . . . that is the verdict of all of us."

A clerk moved behind the bench and placed on the judge's bewigged head the traditional black cap worn when death sentences are pronounced.

Christie stood gripping the rail of the prisoner's dock with his bony white hands.

"You stand convicted of murder," the clerk told him. "Have you anything to say?"

The defendant paled. He shook his bald head and did not speak.

'Lord Have Mercy on Your Soul'

Finemore then passed sentence.

"You have been found guilty of murder by the jury and for that crime there is only one sentence known to our law, and that is that you be taken from this place to a lawful prison and thence to a place of execution and there suffer death by hanging, and that your body be buried in the precincts of the prison in which you shall have been last confined before your execution."

"May the Lord have mercy on your soul," a clergyman intoned.

A tall constable tapped the little man on the shoulder. He turned and groped toward the steep steps leading from the dock to the cells underneath the court.

Just before he disappeared from view he put his hands to his face as if to weep.

An attorney said in behalf of Christie that the question of an appeal will be considered.

Crowds of Londoners had packed sidewalks outside the historic grey court since word spread across London that the case had gone to the jury at 4.04 p.m. (8.04 a.m. PDT). The jurors returned with their verdict at 5.26 p.m. (9.26 p.m. PDT).

They were under instructions from the presiding judge to base their verdict solely on Christie's admitted killing of his wife last December 14. The other murders he confessed were introduced to bolster the defense.

Evidence Satisfies Legal Tests

Prosecutor Heald told the jury the evidence "clearly satisfies the legal tests on which a verdict of guilty should be returned."

"We have clearly proved that Christie did deliberately and intentionally kill his wife . . . by strangling her with a stocking, and that he knew perfectly well what he was doing."

He said the jury had "no alternative" but to return a verdict of guilty.

Heald said two psychiatrists had pronounced the mild-mannered clerk sane, while only one doctor testified for the defense.

"There was a third witness whose evidence was against the defense in this matter, and that was Christie himself," the prosecutor stated. He said the defendant during his "terrible ordeal" in the witness box had given "his evidence in a thoroughly intelligible way."

"Evidence of sex perversion" was "not necessarily insanity," Heald said.

Christie's crimes were first discovered by a new tenant in his apartment, who found the bodies of three young women in a kitchen cupboard whose door had been crudely papered over.

Sweet Blooms for Rose Show

New Red Atrocity Reports in Berlin

Three Workers Said Executed By Firing Squads at Dresden; Govt. Calls Rally

BERLIN (UP)—New Communist atrocity reports reached Berlin today as the riot-shaken regime of Red Premier Otto Grotewohl labored to retain its control over uneasy East Germany.

The report said Russian firing squads executed three more workers at Dresden, where Communist German police had arrested at least 400 men.

In addition to the Dresden roundups, it was learned that special Red squads had seized 115 workers at Freital and 78 in Thrandt, both in Saxony.

News of the new executions lifted the known death toll to seven, but unofficially it was estimated more than 30 persons had died for resisting Soviet oppression.

A big "purge" of workers was undertaken at huge Leuna Chemical Plant at Merseburg, where 25,000 employees rioted last week and took over the plant until Russian tanks rushed in to quell the demonstration.

ANOTHER RALLY

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's shaky Communist government today scheduled another workers' rally in East Berlin, apparently hopeful that careful organization and Soviet steel would prevent this one from developing into another open rebellion.

Party bosses called on workers of the city's three big eastern boroughs—Mitte, Friedrichshagen and Kopenick—to show their support at a mass demonstration Friday for the regime's announced plans to make things better for the working class.

The announcement, made through the British consulate here, renewed speculation that the 56-year-old diplomat may be sufficiently recovered from gall bladder surgery to attend the forthcoming Big Three conference in Bermuda.

The meeting with newsmen and photographers was scheduled for 12 noon at New England Baptist Hospital.

It will be the ailing Eden's first public appearance since entering the hospital June 5.

Canadian Wins British Golf Title

Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., today became the first Canadian and the youngest player ever to win the British women's amateur golf championship. The 19-year-old Canadian titlist defeated Irish champion Philomena Garvey, 7 and 6, in the 36-hole final at the Royal Porthcawl course in Wales. Miss Stewart was six up at the end of 18 holes. (For details see story on Page 8.)

Missing Man Believed on Russian Isle

NOME, Alaska (AP)—Cecil Stoner, 45-year-old laborer who is missing from Little Diomed Island and is believed to have gone to Russian territory three miles away, had talked of wanting to get to Siberia. The Nome Nugget reported Wednesday.

The newspaper said it had learned that Stoner, who has been described in Seattle police records as a leftist and who is on parole from Washington State penitentiary, had a rubber lifeboat in which to make the trip to Russian-owned Big Diomed.

Stoner went to Little Diomed with an excursion party to take pictures of the Arctic ice and walrus. He dropped from sight and speculation immediately rose that he had gone to the Russian territory. The Diomedes are about 150 miles northwest of Nome.

Saskatchewan Man Killed in Korea

OTTAWA (CP)—The army today issued Korean casualty list No. 196, reporting one man killed in action.
He is L. Cpl. Rene Michaud, of South Makwa, Sask., a member of the third battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. His father, Lewis Phillip Michaud, lives in South Makwa.
The list brought Canadian casualties so far suffered in Korea to 1,448, including 284 dead, 1,031 wounded, 23 missing, 92 injured and 18 captured.

Drobny Advances After Long Match

LONDON (AP)—Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt turned back Budge Patty of Los Angeles in an exhausting five-set match which required close to five hours to play today in the Wimbledon tennis tournament. The score of the match was 8-6, 10-18, 3-6, 8-6, 12-10.

It was one of the longest matches in the history of the tournament. Drobny was seeded No. 4 and Patty, former winner of this event, was unseeded.

Aussies 263 for Five in Test

LONDON (CP)—Australia had scored 263 for five wickets at the first innings close of play today in the second test cricket match against England for the mythical Ashes.
The Australians had scored 88 for one at the lunch interval and at teatime had boosted that to 180 runs for one.
The first of five tests for the mythical prize between the two countries ended in a draw when rain washed out the last two days of play.

Nehru Wants Special UN Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—India's Prime Minister Nehru today called for an urgent special meeting of the United Nations general assembly to take up the Korean truce breakdown.
Nehru, who is in Cairo, made his appeal in a cable to assembly president L. B. Pearson of Canada.

Extra Day for Salmon Fishermen

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fisheries Minister Sinclair said today British Columbia's salmon fishermen will be allowed an extra day's fishing each week to make up for a nine-day strike which ended Wednesday.
Fishermen will be allowed to work Saturdays, where previously there had been a Friday midnight-Sunday midnight closure on commercial salmon fishing.

The Queen and her husband, who danced into the early hours of the morning at ball given by the Royal Company of Archers, were scheduled to visit Paisley and Rutherglen as well as Glasgow.

At each point, they were certain to receive the same tumultuous welcome which has marked the Scottish visit so far.

Traffic jams and popular enthusiasm in Edinburgh almost equalled the peak in London during Coronation week early this month. The Scots proudly referred to Wednesday's ceremonies as the "Little Coronation."

Eight hundred guests attended the ball Wednesday night in the Edinburgh assembly rooms. Some 300 of them were members of the archers' company, the Queen's official bodyguard during her state visit to Scotland.

New Stand on Reds' Withdrawal
Raises Hopes for Armistice

Compiled from UP, AP Dispatches
SEOUL, Korea—South Korea's stubborn President Syngman Rhee backed down today from his earlier demand for withdrawal of all Red Chinese troops from Korea before he would agree to a truce.

He made the important concession as President Eisenhower's personal representative arrived in Korea with a warning that a split between the United States and South Korea on the proposed truce would hand victory in the three years' war to the Communists.

Walter Robertson, assistant secretary of state, carried with him from Washington a final "save-the-truce" offer from John Foster Dulles.

"Division now," he warned, "would result only in a victory for the enemy and needless sacrifice of all for which our two countries have contributed so greatly in blood and treasure."

Robertson is expected to meet with Rhee Friday in a final bid to swing the South Korean president behind an armistice that would end the war which entered its fourth year today.

Rhee's surrender on the issue of removal of all Chinese Red troops from Korea raised hopes that Robertson's mission will succeed.

Two CHOICES
Rhee told a crowd of 300,000 persons massed in Capitol Square on the third anniversary of the Korean war that he had given the United Nations two blueprints for an armistice, and they could take their choice.

Originally, he said, he insisted on withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, including some 1,000,000 Chinese, as once proposed by the Communists and rejected by the United Nations.

Rhee said he still opposed the presence of the Chinese on Korean soil after the armistice is settled, but believed this issue could be settled by negotiation.

Meanwhile on the fighting front tonight the Chinese Communists threw 9,000 men into bloody attacks on the third anniversary of the Korean war.

The attacks, breaking a day-long lull, hit on the western front along the road to Seoul, and on the east-central front.

Three Workers Said Executed By Firing
Squads at Dresden; Govt. Calls Rally

BERLIN (UP)—New Communist atrocity reports reached Berlin today as the riot-shaken regime of Red Premier Otto Grotewohl labored to retain its control over uneasy East Germany.

The report said Russian firing squads executed three more workers at Dresden, where Communist German police had arrested at least 400 men.

In addition to the Dresden roundup, it was learned that special Red squads had seized 115 workers at Freital and 78 in Tharandt, both in Saxony.

News of the new executions lifted the known death toll to seven, but unofficially it was estimated more than 30 persons had died for resisting Soviet oppression.

A big "purge" of workers was undertaken at huge Leuna Chemical Plant at Merseburg, where 25,000 employees rioted last week and took over the plant until Russian tanks rushed in to quell the demonstration.

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's shaky Communist government today scheduled another workers' rally in East Berlin, apparently hopeful that careful organization and Soviet steel would prevent this one from developing into another open rebellion.

Party bosses called on workers of the city's three big eastern boroughs—Mitte, Friedrichshagen and Kopenick—to show their support at a mass demonstration Friday for the regime's announced plans to make things better for the working class.

Approval for the gathering was granted by Soviet Maj. Gen. P. T. Dibrova, commander of the Red army divisions which crushed the violent June 17 rebellion following a similar Communist-permitted demonstration.
